French Statesman As- sures Germans That Weight of Occupation

Locarno, Switzerland, October 16.—(P)—Europe's greatest security conference ended tonight in a victory for peace.

At exactly 7:20 the European statesmen who made this victory possible threw open a window on the second floor of the Palace of Justice and, rejecting decorum, announced to the waiting multitude that the Rhine pact and other treaties had been formally approved.

One of their number held aloft the final protocol bearing the signature of all the delegations as proof that

Instantly the crowd gave vent to enthusiasm, rockets were sent into the air, their balls of fire narrowly es-

The appearance at the window of M. Briand, the French foreign minister, was greeted with prolonged cheering. When the British foreign secretary, Austen Chamberlain, came and waved his hand, the crowd clamored for a speech. Chancellor

Luther and the German foreign minister Dr. Stresemann, were acclaimed with no less fervor.

M. Briand's speech at the closing session of the conference, which adjourned with the understanding that the treaties would be signed in London December 1, was qualified by his

Will Live Up to Pact.

Dr. Stresemann had spoken, first. Summarizing the work of the conference and emphasizing that its success spelled a new era in European relationships, he declared solemnly that Germany would loyally live up to the peace pact. He made a discreet all-

In response, M. Briand said that Locarno was not the end, but the beginning of a new epoch—an epoch of cooperation and friendship. He gave unstinted praise to the noble ideals and generosity of the German statesmen who had originated the idea of fashioning security pacts for the maintenance of peace, and declared that the world would duly render homage to this happy initiative. He frankly took up Dr. Stresemann's allusion to the occupation and made it clear

GOOD BUSINESS
ERA TO CONTINUE,
BANKER ASSERTS

Columbus, Ohio, October 16.—(AP)—George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City bank, of New York, sees a long period of good business ahead for the United States "if the present conservative sentiment is maintained."

In a paper read today before the Financial Advertisers' association convention, he declared improvement in agricultural conditions has resulted in the restoration of normal price relationships. The paper was read by H. G. Hodapp, also of the National City bank in Roberts' absence. It is Mr. Roberts' opinion this country's prosperity will not suffer when European industry gets into its full stride again.

"If the world goes back into balanced trade relations we may count upon it that demands and consumption will keep up with offerings on the market," his paper declared.

Derailment on Southern.

Macon, Ga., October 16.—(AP)—A freight train derailment on the Southern railway between McDonough and Atlanta, tied up traffic today on the main line of that road.

NEW DICTATOR TAKES PLACE IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, October 16.—(AP)—Shanghai, gateway port of China, today fell into the hands of a new military ruler. General Sun Chuan-Fang, the Chekiang commander. Without firing a shot 10,000 of his troops took possession of the city while 15,000 troops of Hemera, Chang Tso-Lin, who have held the city many months, withdrew towards central China.

More than 80 Chinese sentenced to death were turned over to foreign authorities by General Shing Shi-Lien, the retiring commander, who was unable to execute the offenders after sentences had been imposed by mixed courts.

The change of military rulers was not without disorder, however. A train of the Shanghai-Nanking railway on which Silas H. Strawn, of Chicago, American delegate to the Chinese customs conference at Peking was riding was seized by Chinese soldiers. Mr. Strawn, his daughter and Mahlon F. Perkins, technical expert of the state department, were forced to return here before they were allowed to proceed.

Authorities at the international settlement here today started adopting public order measures. All defense units were ordered to stand by and barricades of barbed wire were erected about the settlement boundary.

Engineer Missing
Since July Found
Near Death in Cave

Pittsburgh, October 16.—(AP)—That the happiness of children should be turned into fright at his appearance seemed to be the thought uppermost in the mind of Paul Bloss, 40, civil engineer, mysteriously missing since last July and found in a cave near Pittsburgh yesterday, when he regained consciousness in a hospital hours after having been admitted. His first words were of the children, then he told hospital attendants that he had wandered into the cave a week ago and had existed on a diet of berries and herbs but did not throw any light on where he had been prior to entering the cave.

When discovered by a man in search of mushrooms, who was attracted to the cave by moans, Bloss, unable to talk, was in a very weakened condition and unable to stand. He was huddled in a corner of the cave and his body was almost devoid of clothing, an old sack being his only covering. His hair was long and his beard shaggy and matted. The cave is situated in a densely wooded section.

According to relatives, who are unable to aid authorities in a solution of the mystery, Bloss was last seen on the morning of last July 20, when he left the home of his brother-in-law at Delmont, West Moreland county, not far from this city, presumably for work.

Atlanta Interest in Shrine Fund Shown by Kamper Subscription

The following letter was received Friday by A. S. Adams, general chairman of the Yaarab temple building fund campaign to raise funds for the erection of a new Shrine mosque and huge civic auditorium at Peachtree and Kimball streets. It is indicative of the high interest in the project encountered among the citizens of Atlanta generally.

"Mr. A. S. Adams, Chairman, Yaarab Temple Building Fund Campaign, Atlanta, Ga.

"My Dear Noble Adams: Two Shriners in to see us this morning to solicit a noble in our employ for his subscription to your $1,000,000 building fund. I asked them if they had a card for us, and when told they did not, I felt that our firm had been slighted.

"You are undertaking a civic responsibility in your present campaign, and one which will rebound to the good of all of us in Atlanta and the southeast. As loyal citizens we would like the privilege of subscribing $1,000 to your fund in the name of Mr. C. J. Kamper, a Mason, but not a Shriner.

"Atlanta is upon the threshold of a greater Atlanta, and it behooves every one in the city to strain himself by lending and giving liberally now. We are making investments in the future growth of our city.

"All success to you and your noble bands.
"Cordially,

each one of his 37 district chairmen, and these men will let the Atlanta workers know just how they have succeeded by the time of the report luncheon Monday noon.

Although none of the reports are official, Mr. Gibson stated that a number of out-state points already had oversubscribed their quotas. A number of other have obtained a fine start, he said, and are expected to reach their respective goals next week.

Among those districts that are well on their way to a successful campaign are Alpharetta, where Ralph A. Waters is chairman; Cornelia, under the leadership of W. H. Jarrell; Marietta, where the forces are headed by Len C. Baldwin; LaGrange, with John W. Quinn acting as chairman, and Carrollton, with Dr. Lloyd J. Brock in charge of solicitation.

Team No. 2 in Lead.

Team No. 2, captained by C. A. Rauschenberg, Jr., maintained its leadership of the field at Friday's report luncheon, by turning in sufficient subscriptions to keep the percentage of goal subscribed well ahead of the others.

Mr. Rauschenberg and his workers are near the half way mark, having raised 45.5 per cent of their quota. Dr. C. E. Wilson's team, No. 10, has obtained a larger amount of money for the campaign than any other team. He has turned in a total of $12,450.

Runners-up are teams No. 1 with 39 per cent of its quota subscribed, and No. 6, captained by E. G. Beaudry, with 40 per cent. The campaign took a remarkable turn Friday when the average per card was found to be higher than at either of the previous report meetings. While the per card amount has been hovering close around the $300 mark, it took a decided upward trend and campaign leaders are thereby greatly encouraged.

by Clark Howell, Sr., editor of The Constitution, President Ernest Camp, of the Georgia Press association, welcomed the vice president on behalf of editors of the state.

When General Dawes arrived at the town of Stone Mountain he was greeted by the school children of the town, who lined the streets on the square and waved flags and cheered the visitor for several minutes. The entire populace of Stone Mountain apparently was on hand to greet the vice president and he responded to the reception with a short speech delivered expressly for the school children, in which he stressed the duties of patriotic service.

Visits Stone Mountain.

General Dawes was then taken to the side of Stone Mountain where he was shown the Stone Mountain memorial.

"I am amazed at the magnitude of this great project," General Dawes said. "Although I have read a lot about Stone Mountain and the memorial plans, I never conceived of anything of this magnitude. It is tremendous in its possibilities and assuredly will be the greatest memorial of any kind in the world when completed."

Returning to Atlanta General Dawes was the guest of Mr. Howell at a luncheon at the Capital City club which was attended by about 30 other guests. The occasion was purely social in its nature and after the luncheon General Dawes went to the railroad station and boarded his train for Indianapolis.

Although he invaded a democratic stronghold in the south, General Dawes was given as cordial reception as has been bestowed on other notable visitors in Atlanta. He made his fight before the people at the auditorium for a change in senate rules purely on a non-partisan basis and said the question is one that is neither a democratic question nor a republican question.

On a non-partisan basis the entire audience at the auditorium as well as those present at other speeches made in Atlanta by the visitor, arose and promised him their support in the fight he is to make to reform the senate.

Before leaving General Dawes expressed his thanks for the cordial reception given him, to his host, Clark Howell, for officers of the Chamber of Commerce, the Southeastern fair and other civic organizations participating in the reception. He also expressed appreciation of courtesies extended by city officers, government officials, state officials and officials of the city of Atlanta.

"I have enjoyed my Atlanta visit tremendously," the vice president said. "Just before leaving General Dawes reiterated his intention of carrying his fight for the reform in the senate rules to the people of the country. He said when the people demand these reforms members of the senate will be glad to bow to the will of the people."

Georgia, and will in time lead to the construction of a network of trunk lines over the entire state.

Brantley's Plans.

"A meeting will be held Wednesday at Cordele and plans for paving what is termed as the last leg of the stretch will be made," Mr. Brantley said. "Representatives from Houston and Dooly counties will attend the meeting, and immediate steps to pave the highway through these two counties are expected."

"The highway is paved from the Florida line north for about 70 miles already, and Tift county already has let a contract for paving the route through this county, so that after road is paved from Atlanta to Macon, Houston and Dooly counties will be the only ones in which the highway is not paved."

"The same route is used practically all the way by the Dixie highway and the National highway and traffic is exceedingly heavy. We need paving along the entire route, and it is time to get it. Nothing but good paving can stand the tremendous amount of traffic which this road has to bear, and we are going to get that."

2 TAXI DRIVERS BOUND TO TREE

Macon, Ga., October 16.—(P)—Two negro taxicab drivers were found tied to a tree by Henry county officers who were searching for moonshiners today.

The negroes, Luther Barrow, manager of a negro taxicab company, and John Berry, said they had been hired by a white couple to drive them to the outskirts of Macon. When they had proceeded 12 miles north of McDonough, they said, the passengers stopped the car, robbed them of $75 and drove away. Search was started for the alleged robbers.

POLICE SEEKING HIGHWAY ROBBERS.

Roads leading to Atlanta from Macon were being guarded Friday, following receipt of a telegram from the chief of police at Stockbridge, Ga., that a man and a woman, both well dressed, had held up and robbed two negro taxi drivers from Macon of $70 at pistol point. The two men were then tied to a tree just outside of Stockbridge. The couple left in an automobile in the direction of Atlanta. The woman was described as being short and stout, with black hair and eyes, wearing a light tan dress and a blue coat. The man was about 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 155 pounds, wearing a dark suit and light felt hat.

TWELVE years ago we had a vision. At that time we first opened our doors to serve the good people of Atlanta and vicinity with good furniture at prices as low as sound business would justify.

From that day until now we have faithfully stood by that policy, and the generous response, year by year, to such a policy has enabled us to lay the foundation of a bigger and better "home" in which we might serve our customers and friends more satisfactorily.

Year by year we have endeavored to serve our community in every way possible. We have grown with Atlanta and will continue to grow by rendering a better service to our constituents and our fair city.

IT is with a keen sense of sincere gratitude and pardonable pride that we present to All Atlanta our "NEW HOME," and we want every one to know that in our New Home they will always find the same cordial and personal service, and an even greater variety of "Good Furniture which is not expensive" than ever before.

Come one—come all—that we may express our gratitude to you—our Customers and Friends, for making today the greatest day in our history.

Come early and stay as long as you will for this is literally "your store," and we want everyone to feel perfectly at home in it.

Lack of Saving Clause in New Inheritance Tax Act May Lose Large Sum to State of Georgia

Speculation on Effect of Tangle Resulting From Adoption of 1925 Act Rife at Capitol.

Considerable speculation arose Friday at the state capitol as to whether or not the state of Georgia will lose large sums of inheritance taxes due under the old law, as the result of the passage of a new inheritance tax act by the recent legislature which has been declared valid by Attorney General Napier.

Several large estates are said to be involved in the question, owners having died before passage of the new law on August 27, 1925, and these estates having not been assessed and taxes collected before that time.

It was pointed out in capital circles that the law of Georgia holds that in tax matters, unless a saving clause is written into the new tax bill, taxes due under the old law and not collected before the new law is passed are automatically lost to the state.

To Collect Taxes. Announcing his intention of enforcing the new inheritance tax law, which provides for assessment by the state of an amount equal to 25 per cent of the federal estate tax, State Tax Commissioner James A. Dozier has set machinery in motion to collect taxes from those who have died since enactment of the recent statute under provisions of the 1925 law. At the same time, he said Friday that he intends to collect from estates of those who died prior to enactment of the new law under provisions of the old act.

Representatives of estates of persons who died prior to enactment of the act of 1925 were given 12 months in which to file returns with the state tax commission. A number have not been filed and it is these which it is said that the state may lose.

Mr. Dozier said Friday that Attorney General Napier had informed him that the new law is not retroactive, and that he was going under the assumption that if the law is not retroactive, taxes due under the old law are still due to the state, which-or the new law is now in effect or not.

No Official Opinion. Attorney General Napier told The Constitution that he has not issued an official opinion concerning this phase of the inheritance tax matter, and that he could not do so off hand, but will let the subject lie in abeyance until it is brought to his attention through proper channels.

It is understood that Graham Wright, of Rome, attorney for an estate held to be due for taxes under the old law by the state tax commission, has filed an injunction to prevent collection of the taxes under the old law on the ground that machinery for assessment and collection of the taxes was done away with by the legislature when it passed the new law without the required saving clause.

It is further pointed out in capital circles that section five of the new law states that there shall be no other inheritance tax assessed or collected under the laws of this state as of August 27, 1925. This is held to mean that in addition to not having a saving clause for collection of taxes due under the old law, the new law specifically sets forth that no other taxes are to be collected out of estates saved under provisions of the new law.

Mr. Dozier pointed out that when the law creating the electric chair and abolishing hanging was enacted, there were a number of persons under sentence of death who were hanged after the law creating the electric chair was passed, and that there are still more sentenced to hang under the old law than there are in the new future, drawing a comparison to the tax matter by this illustration.

It was pointed out on the other hand by observers that in tax matters the law is different from criminal law in that it provides that a saving clause must be placed in subsequent law to collect taxes under a previous law.

Lamar Is Winner In Negro Displays At Lakewood Fair. Lamar county was victor with Polk, Washington, Peach, Houston, Rockdale, Newton and Laurens counties ranking next in the order named in the county products displays of the negro department, it was announced Friday. Fifty Georgia counties which have negro farm and home demonstration agents were represented in the contest.

The Lamar exhibit's award of first place over the exhibit of Polk, which has only a woman demonstration agent, was attributed chiefly to the fact that Lamar presented a superior showing in five cured hams and loaves, along with well-balanced agricultural show featuring cotton, grain, canned goods, needlework and other products.

The Polk display is notable for the craft work on exhibition, most of which is being offered for sale. Colorful rugs made out of crocus stalks, flower bags, burlap bagging and even of grass, are a novel feature of the display. Articles of furniture and ornamental flower pots made of reeds, straw, pine needles and other homey material have attracted interest of white visitors to the department throughout the exposition.

MISS OLA WYETH HEADS LIBRARIANS

Jackson, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—The Georgia Library association, at the concluding session of the biennial convention at Indian Springs Friday afternoon, elected Miss Ola Wyeth, of the Savannah public library, as president; Miss Jemison, of Emory university, vice president, and re-elected Miss Eva Martin, of Savannah, as secretary and treasurer.

The attendance was the largest ever reported, 48 representatives being present. The place of the next meeting will be decided by the officers who compose the executive board.

Friday morning's session was devoted to a discussion of library problems and children's work, with a round table discussion. Another section considered college libraries. The program Friday afternoon consisted of a book symposium and a report on current literature, works of travel, poetry, drama and books dealing with the south.

The visitors were delightfully entertained, being guests of Locust Grove institute Thursday afternoon, the citizens of Indian Springs Thursday night and a luncheon given in their honor by the Woman's club and Jackson Kwanis club Friday at noon.

In appreciation of the cordial hospitality shown, Miss Sallie Boone, librarian at Mercer university, headed a movement to have all members of the association send a collection of books to Miss Carrie Carter at Rock Castle, Indian Springs, to be used as a circulating library for the benefit of Indian Springs citizens.

Sumter County Boy Wins Championship Boar Award

Rainey Wiggins, of Americus, a member of the Sumter County Boys' Pig club, won the grand champion boar prize Friday with his Duroc Jersey entry in the State Boys' Pig club contest at the Southeastern fair, and also took the junior champion prize in the open ring against the best breeders of the United States.

Johnson county boys made the best county showing, with Franklin county second, Ware county third, Elbert county fourth, Hall county fifth and Chattooga county sixth.

There were 100 more pigs entered in the boys' pig club contest than one year during the past five years and Wiggins' pig was considered as one of the finest junior boars ever entered in an event in the Southeastern fair, especially since it was raised under adverse circumstances when Georgia was undergoing one of its worst droughts in history.

Girls Win Prizes. Not only did the boys make a great showing in the club contests but girls also carried off honors. Rosa Lawrence, of Wrightsville, Johnson county, won three first, and two second places in the pig club contests.

Agnes Sheets, of Atlanta, also showed boys and girls of the state that she is quite an artist at raising pigs and carried off the highest honor in the herdsman's exhibit, months old. She also placed second in one other event.

Joe Parks, of Carnesville, from Franklin county, won the prize for the best fitting and handling pigs in the ring. His work in the ring was considered as an unusual feat for a youngster and he won over an unusually large field of competition. Jim Roy Parker, of Lenoir, won second place, and Woodrow Tanner, of Gainesville, won third place in the herdsman's exhibit.

Other awards in the Boys' Pig club contests follow: Berkshire: Best boar over six months, Bill Wilson, second. Over six months, Bill Wilson, second. Over six months, Bill Wilson, second. Over six months, Bill Wilson, second.

Turning toward Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann, he said: "The people of France will soon recognize your loyal statement by an expression of good-will toward the German people."

Austen Chamberlain, habitually cold and always master of himself, appeared to be at the height of his emotion under the weight of joy and emotion which checked his words and made them almost unintelligible.

M. Vandervelde, Belgium's socialist foreign minister, pledged that the socialists would ever with heart and soul back up the results achieved at Locarno.

Protocol Is Signed. At the closing session, the Rhine pact and the collateral arbitration treaties, with which the pact is interlocked, were all initiated and the protocol was signed.

The Rhine pact is signed by France, Germany and Belgium, with Great Britain and Italy as guarantors, and by its provisions the signatories undertake to refrain from attacking or invading the territory of the others.

Locarno was given over to rejoicing tonight. Bands played in crowded streets, and new electrical displays made it a fairground of light and gaiety.

REPORTERS BOYCOTT MUSSOLINI PARTY. Locarno, Switzerland, October 16. (United News.)—Premier Mussolini, of Italy, discovered that many newspapermen are opposed to his party with reporters when he appeared before the correspondents covering the security conference.

Among those who attended was the correspondent of the London Daily Herald, an organ of the labor party. "How is communism?" Mussolini inquired, approaching the Daily Herald man.

In appreciation of the cordial hospitality shown, Miss Sallie Boone, librarian at Mercer university, headed a movement to have all members of the association send a collection of books to Miss Carrie Carter at Rock Castle, Indian Springs, to be used as a circulating library for the benefit of Indian Springs citizens.

Draws Illustration. Mr. Dozier pointed out that when the law creating the electric chair and abolishing hanging was enacted, there were a number of persons under sentence of death who were hanged after the law creating the electric chair was passed, and that there are still more sentenced to hang under the old law than there are in the new future, drawing a comparison to the tax matter by this illustration.

It was pointed out on the other hand by observers that in tax matters the law is different from criminal law in that it provides that a saving clause must be placed in subsequent law to collect taxes under a previous law.

Lamar Is Winner In Negro Displays At Lakewood Fair. Lamar county was victor with Polk, Washington, Peach, Houston, Rockdale, Newton and Laurens counties ranking next in the order named in the county products displays of the negro department, it was announced Friday. Fifty Georgia counties which have negro farm and home demonstration agents were represented in the contest.

The Lamar exhibit's award of first place over the exhibit of Polk, which has only a woman demonstration agent, was attributed chiefly to the fact that Lamar presented a superior showing in five cured hams and loaves, along with well-balanced agricultural show featuring cotton, grain, canned goods, needlework and other products.

The Polk display is notable for the craft work on exhibition, most of which is being offered for sale. Colorful rugs made out of crocus stalks, flower bags, burlap bagging and even of grass, are a novel feature of the display. Articles of furniture and ornamental flower pots made of reeds, straw, pine needles and other homey material have attracted interest of white visitors to the department throughout the exposition.

Washington county and Peach and Houston counties, which had a joint exhibit, both were given prizes on the showing made in meat production, with cured meats and with several varieties of hay, corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes, soy beans and other crops best adapted as food for swine and cattle in a balanced farming program.

In the elementary school exhibit, competition of the city of Atlanta schools took first honors away from the Fulton schools, reversing the judgment of the 1924 fair. Washington High school of Atlanta was first among the secondary schools, with Atlanta university second, Spelman third and Sylvia Bryan Baptist institute fourth.

DIXIE MOTORCADE LEAVES MACON ON SOUTH TOUR. Macon, Ga., October 16.—(P)—The caravan of motorists comprising the Dixie highway motorcade left Macon this morning on the last lap of their trip through Georgia and they expect to stop for the night in Jacksonville, Fla. The noon stop was made at Fitzgerald, Ga.

The visitors spent last night in Macon and were entertained with an elaborate banquet. A number of local business men appeared on the speakers' program to welcome the motorists to Macon and the heart of Georgia.

Captain D. S. Gailbreath, veteran trail breaker and promoter of good roads, spoke for the visitors. He headed the motorcade out of Macon this morning.

Bishop Richardson Will Preach Sunday At Warren Memorial. Bishop E. G. Richardson, resident bishop of the Atlanta area of the Methodist Episcopal church, will preach at Warren Memorial church, colored, at 11 o'clock Sunday.

Carrying the Georgia Into 37 States

ATLANTA can be proud of the Georgia—a standard casualty company, now operating in thirty-seven states with increasing success.

That this growing organization has written a business which so far this year surpasses all previous records in the decade and a half of the Company's history speaks well for the work of the Company's scores of representatives.

Such a record speaks well, too, for Atlanta—the City which the Georgia Casualty Company fortunately has chosen for its headquarters.

HAZLETON WINS SWEEPSTAKES CIRCUIT CARD FEATURE

Crawford, Thompson Dillon And Anna Bradford's Girl Other Winners at Lakewood

BY GEORGE CONGDON.
All the speed of the Grand Circuit gathered Friday for one great burst on the Lakewood oval in the closing day of the meeting scheduled here for the Southeastern fair. Favorites, Crawford, Anna Bradford's Girl and Thompson Dillon, won their events, but the big feature of the entire program carded here was Sep Palin's Hazleton's win of the two-year-old sweepstakes, with a jackpot of $5,750.

The grouping of the biggest events, the features of three days of racing that were rained out, brought the value of Friday's program to $20,050, making it one of the richest bills in which drivers of the "breast" grand have raced their trotters and pacers this season. There were the bills with the American Pacing Derby, the Gears Memorial stakes and one or two others as rich; the number can be counted on one's fingers.

The two-year-old sweepstakes was a race between three horses, Palin's Hazleton, Tom Murphy's Double Cross and Ben White's Station Belle, by Belwin. In the first heat, the favorite, Double Cross, won by a head in 2:10 1-2, but Palin nudged Hazleton into victory in the next two heats in 2:10 5-8 and 2:13 1-2. With these two leaders Station Belle was a tough contender, in the last heat, running second by a neck. Station Belle broke badly at the start of the second heat, but White quieted her nicely all through the third heat.

Crawford Wins 16th.
Anna Bradford's Girl, W. K. Dickerson's peerless pacer, turned the best time of the day on the heavy track. She won the $2,500 class pace in straight heats, but was forced to a mile in 2:04 flat in the third heat by Theodore Guy, Palin's entry, which was second in both of the other heats. Anna Bradford's Girl stepped beautifully in the last half mile of the third heat, making the half in something close to one minute. The time for the first half was 1:02, but at the half post, Anna Bradford's Girl was trailing after breaking past the quarter post. She recovered her stride just after passing the half post and came home first under the wire by a neck. She paced the first mile in 2:05 and the second in 2:05 1-4. Star Ruth was third and Phil O'Neil, fourth.

Crawford added his sixteenth win in 19 starts by taking the 2:15 class trot, worth $3,000, in straight heats. Murphy was not forced to push his wonderful trotter, the sensation of the season, until the last heat. Crawford's time for the mile in the three heats was 2:11, 2:10 and 2:07. In the last heat, Dickerson's Guy Trogan was a serious threat to Crawford. Guy Trogan was third and Bingen Assof, from the Dickerson stable but driven by W. T. Crozier, placed second in the summaries.

More good contest was furnished in the $2,500 2:30 class race that was won by Walter Cox's Thompson Dillon. Crawford's greatest rival this season, Murphy's Trumpet won the first heat in 2:08, but weakened in the next two heats, which Thompson Dillon won in 2:09 and 2:08 3-4. Trumpet dropped to third in the last two heats. Palin driving Dr. Strongworth won third place in the summaries over White's Coasta J.

CHATTANOOGA OPPOSES MERCER

Macon, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) Coach Stanley Robinson and 22 Bears left this afternoon for Chattanooga to do battle with the University of Chattanooga in their second S. I. A. A. contest of the year.

The Bruin team will enter the game hoping to hold the Moccasins from scoring while they push over one or two touchdowns. Injuries have played havoc with the Mercer eleven and Coach Robinson has been forced to make some radical changes in the lineup.

GEORGIA OUT TO DEFEAT FURMAN

BY MARCUS BRYANT.
Augusta, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) Both the Georgia Bulldogs and the Furman Hurricane were in headquarters at the Partridge Inn Friday night, and all Augusta and this section are awaiting their clash Saturday afternoon at Warren park.

Coach Woodruff's squad numbered 36 Bulldogs. They arrived at noon Friday and this afternoon romped through a signal drill and the squad on the whole is in very good condition.

The Furman players arrived here early Friday night. They will hurl their greatest strength against the Red and Black, not being in condition for action. Though defeated in their last two starts at the hands of Virginia and Yale, the Bulldogs are determined to repeat their performance of last year, when Furman won 23 to 0. Furman, however, is threatening, with victories over Washington and Lee, 20 to 5, and the Ironsides, 14 to 0.

Other officers elected were as follows: D. I. ("Red") Barron, of Monroe A. & M., vice president, and S. K. Tanner, of Lanier, was reelected secretary and treasurer.

ARMY TEAMS MEET HERE SUNDAY

The Twenty-second infantry football team, which held the Fort Benning squad two weeks ago remarkably well, will make its second start of the season Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Fort McPherson.

The Twenty-second and the Eighth infantry teams are evenly matched in the Twenty-second infantry and the Benning squad. The latter team is noted for its wealth of material, while the Twenty-second has only one college football man in its lineup. He is Lieutenant Bill Saffarans, star halfback and punter of the Georgetown Hilltoppers of several seasons ago.

Smithies and Marist Carry Prep Hopes To Victory

BY BEN COTHRAIN.
Local prep teams continued to come through with fine showings Friday afternoon, although two suffered defeat at the hands of out-of-town teams. The Tech High squad rolled back Newman High, 13 to 0; Marist got revenge from Darlington school, of Rome, 16 to 6; the Oglethorpe freshmen won from G. M. A., 19 to 6; Boys' High lost to Monroe A. & M., 14 to 0, and Deatur High was snowed under by Gainesville High school, 44 to 0.

The Marist-Darlington game was the feature of the day with Marist showing much drive and speed in its backfield, while Darlington had a green team, but put up a hard fight and made a very creditable showing.

Tech High and Newman played a slow game, on a muddy field, in which the Smithies received most of the breaks. Coach Morrow's G. M. A. eleven put up a hard fight against the Tech High squad, although severely handicapped by injuries.

Tech High showed a lack of drive in yesterday's game with Newman, and they will have to show improvement in order to be considered as contenders for the G. I. A. A. crown. Both Cook and Vaughn, fleet halves of the Smithies eleven, were off form, with Parrish, big fullback, showing up best for the Gold squad, hitting the line hard and tearing big holes in the opposing line.

The Smithies recovered some of their form in the second half, however, starting a drive at the very beginning. After receiving the kickoff, two first downs placed the ball well in Newman's territory. It was broken up, however, when Jones, of Newman, intercepted a pass on his own 25-yard line. The Smithies held the ball in Newman's territory, and Newman was forced to punt.

Coach Morrow managed to break through and block it. Heard, Smithie tackle, falling on the ball on Newman's 17-yard line. From this point Cook carried the ball over for a touchdown.

In this same quarter Tech High took the lead on the 20-yard line. Here Newman got the ball, and a punt was blocked again, this time by Rasmussen, the ball hitting him in the stomach, and bouncing behind the goal line. Jack Davis, Smithie flankman, fell on the ball behind the goal line, making another touchdown for Tech High. Vaughn kicked goal.

"YOU MADE ME WHAT I AM TODAY"

Chicago, October 16.—Dressed in regulation convict garb, two pretty girls marched up and down State street Friday during the busiest hours of the day.

Behind them followed a bevy of equally pretty girls who chattered and clapped their hands in great glee. The strange spectacle was explained by one of the "convicts," Violet Code. "I bet on Washington," she said.

"So did I," cried out Olive White. And on down the street they marched.

INJURIES HIT PETREL CAMP

BY ALTON REDFEARN.
Twenty-two players, Manager Jarard, Trainer Sartain and Coach Harard, enroute Friday morning at 7:40 for Columbus, where they will meet Fort Benning this afternoon in their annual classic.

For the first time during the present season, Oglethorpe is handicapped on account of injuries. "Muggsy" Smith, Bob Shepherd, Clifton White, Tuley Walsh, Captain Parrish and Charlie Corless are the ones who are hurt. Walsh, White, Smith and Shepherd are backfield men, while Captain Parrish and Corless are linemen. All of them are varying men and their absence from the lineup will lower Oglethorpe's stock somewhat.

Coach Robertson pulled Major Guthrie out of the line yesterday afternoon in hopes of developing him into a back. Guthrie played fullback at G. M. C., but when he entered Oglethorpe he was placed at the guard position, and has fulfilled his duties at this position remarkably well. After a few days practice, Guthrie should develop into a suitable running mate for Bob Kilgore.

The Petrels have worked hard in preparation for the game with the big Blue Tide today, and are out to avenge the defeat of last year, when the soldiers triumphed by the score of 20 to 0. It is true that the Petrels are somewhat handicapped by injuries, but they are not offering any alibies, and will take the field determined to win.

Nap Lajoie, playing shortstop for the Philadelphia Athletics on September 24, 1901, had ten putouts, which still stands as an American league record.

Horey, Watters, Disbrow And Girl Driver Entered In Fair's Closing Events

Speed and thrills galore are promised Southeastern fair patrons this afternoon when kings of the dirt tracks, headed by celebrities from all over the land, lead out their little racing machines to take part in what promises to be the greatest race meet ever slated for the Lakewood oval, and a meet that has lured the dainty little girl driver, Mile. Joan LeCosta, greatest of all European dare-devils, to match her skill and daring against the large field of lead-footed dust dogs who have entered the Dixie sweepstakes, the outstanding event on the day's card.

In the Dixie event, which is for 17 miles, Johnny Watters will be seen in his first Frontenac, the sand machine with which he stepped out in front of Burr Lumpkin and a host of others in the west early this year. Today's event marks the first time that Watters has ventured south since his nearly fatal accident on the local course when he crashed through the fence while serving as a mechanic to Larry D. Stone in the giant Lightning Benz, one of the world's most famous racing cars.

Matched Against Veterans.
Watters will be matched against Horey, winner of the majority of events of the first day's program at the Southeastern fair, and against Louis Disbrow, daring veteran of 20 years' racing who is still as skilled and as daring as the best of them.

Pop Daily, veteran pilot who showed his stuff in Atlanta last spring by showing the gas tank to the mighty Sig Haugstad, will again be on deck.

Mile. LeCosta, the real attraction in the day's program, says her mount is in perfect condition for the races and that with good luck she will be able to set a new mile southern record for women drivers. Mile. LeCosta also says that Lakewood is the most beautiful and the most dangerous automobile race course that she has ever seen, but she feels confident that "Betsy Tom," her little Frontenac, will carry her safely out of the wicked upper turn.

Program for the races is as follows:
EVENT NO. 1. Introduction of cars and drivers, drivers being allowed 10 minutes to warm up motors.
Car: Driver: Mile: 17.
Miller's Fred Horey
Flat Junior Louis Disbrow
Buesenberg Larry Stone
Frontenac Johnny Watters
Rex Special Bob Green
Sumpter Eddie Butler
Barnes Special Cleo Carles
Yale Special Fred Wilgren
Klear Al Collier

Second Heat.

BY JULIAN GRIFFIN.

After a couple of no-decision bouts, Tech and Florida will attempt to break the existing gridiron deadlock this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, on Grant field.

Thirty-seven players, eager and confident of their own ability, piled in at their hotel last night to get a good night of rest, after holding a brisk signal drill yesterday afternoon. Advance dope and calculations, which usually amount to less than nothing, indicate that Tech should win the game today. However, it is not to be their's without a struggle.

The Tech team of 1925 has proved its worth against tough opposition, whereas the Florida aggregation has not been extended to its limit in the earlier games of the season. Coach Sebring has turned out an eleven worthy of meeting the best teams in the south. It is strongest at the tackle positions, which are protected by Cy Williams and "Goldie" Goldstein, who are considered two of the leading tackles in the south.

No one has accused Tech of being weak at tackle, however. Murphy Tharpe and Carpenter, with Tiny Hearn ready to help out in any emergency, are able to hold their own with any of them, so a tough battle at these important positions is inevitable.

Must Watch Jones. Florida has the brilliant Edgar Jones, all-southern back, leading the way in a well-balanced backfield that will be matched in power and ability by Wycoff and company.

From early morning until late at night, a steady stream of Florida supporters poured into the city yesterday, ready to back their team to the limit. The players arrived before noon in time for their light workout at Druid Hills in the afternoon.

The Florida Special, bearing 14 cars of students, dignitaries and the Florida band, will reach Atlanta at 7:25 this morning. Governor Martin and his wife, of Florida, will be among the officials attending.

Not only the special train, but a total of 30 extra cars have been put on the roads running from Florida to Atlanta.

Highways Busy. The highways are also filled with muddy autos splashing their way to the game, bringing millionaire realtors and other Florida supporters. Coach Sebring, after putting his men through a brief drill, indicated that he was not confident of victory, but expected his men to give a good account of themselves in the "rubber" game with Tech.

Coach Alexander, realizing the importance of the game and the strength of the Florida eleven, has impressed upon the Jackets that they have a real scrap on their hands and must turn loose everything if they expect victory.

Both teams are in excellent physical condition for the game and are ready to pit their full strength against the enemy.

The weather man says the atmospheric conditions tomorrow will continue inclement, with intermittent showers, but let's not pay any attention to him. Let's go on out to the game and hope it doesn't rain.

Sumo Tech Lineup. The Tech mentor, after yesterday's tapering off rehearsal, announced that he would use the same lineup at the start that was so successful against the Nittany Lions last week. That means Merkle and Marshall will take care of the flank positions; Tharpe and Carpenter will look after the tackle berths; Godwin and Forrester will hold forth as guards while Owen Pool will snap the ball back from center. Wycoff and Barron will run the halfback position, Murray will plunge from fullback, and The Williams will direct the attack from quarterback.

Coach Sebring would not make a definite announcement as to the starters, but it is understood that the Alligators will crawl out on the field like this:

Jones and Brown, halfbacks; Stanley, quarter; Chaplin, fullback; Sarra, center; Stewart and Norton, guards; Goldstein and Williams, tackles; and Anderson and Toda, ends.

TIGERS MEET LONGHORNS TODAY

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE.

Dallas, Texas, October 16.—(Special.)—Amidst a roar of Auburn yells from the lusty throngs of a score of ex-Auburn men, the Auburn Tiger football squad climbed down out of their Pullman here today.

With the unloading of this human cargo of nearly a score and a half of Auburn football men, the journey from the Auburn plains to the Lone Star metropolis was terminated. The scene of the Tiger-Longhorn conflict has been reached.

The trip from Memphis was uneventful with the exception of a small washout which caused a delay in reaching the destination of little over an hour. The Sunshine Special, carrying the Auburn Pullman was transformed to "Raincloud" Special as it sped into the broad prairie stretches of Texas this morning.

A heavy downpour of rain greeted the Texas-bound gridders throughout east Texas. While much rain has fallen in Dallas this week there was a cessation in the downpour as the Auburnites arrived this afternoon.

With favorable weather conditions until the game starts Saturday the fair grounds stadium will be in excellent condition for the melee. The grid party in their travel from the Auburn campus to the Texas metropolis, has been marked with distinguished courtesy from everyone.

At Memphis Thursday night the Auburn party was met at the Union station by a party of friends, headed by Mrs. Fletcher Harvey, wife of a former football star at Auburn. At the Memphis Y. M. C. A. the squad was tendered the courtesies of the magnificent "Y" and a brisk 30 minutes of "setting up" exercise was gone through with some emphasis being given to formation drill also.

ROME BEATEN BY LAGRANGE

Rome, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—Lagrange high school defeated Rome high school here this afternoon, 6 to 0. The two teams battled to a scoreless tie until the final period when the visitors, with the excellent broken field running of Albright, started a drive that netted a touchdown. Barron, playing end for the locals gave the visitors considerable trouble in winning their game.

MONTANA PREPS TRY GRID AFTER TEN YEARS

The Helena team, which ranks high in basketball, folding the state record for trophies taken, has been out of football for some years but will try again this year. The game was halted a decade ago at the request of the school board after a student was killed. Forty men responded for practice this fall.

U. S. B. TACKLES SAVANNAH TODAY

Today will be home coming day for U. S. B. when the Bluebirds meet the Blue Jackets from Savannah in a game that promises to be one of this year's prep classics, the game to be played on Grant field at 10 o'clock. A large number of distinguished guests will occupy a box and a large section of seats has been reserved by Norcross fans to see the two Norcross boys on the Bluebird eleven perform this morning.

This is the first invasion of north Georgia by the Savannah team. A defeat for either squad will put it out of the running for the G. I. A. A. title.

In Freddie Thompson, full; Wittington and Sharpe, halves, and Williams, quarterback, Savannah has one of the fastest backfields in the state, while University has a strong club that will force Savannah to the utmost in order to win.

Letters were sent to all alumni of the University school and a large number will be present. Among the distinguished guests this morning will be R. K. White, president of University school; Dr. M. L. Brittain, of Tech; Dr. Thormann Jacobs, of Oglethorpe; Governor Clifford Walker, Mayor Walter Sims, Ivy Wingo, catcher for Cincinnati; his brother, Red; Roy Carley, outfielder for Boston, and Clio Carley, his brother; Coach Alexander, of Tech, and Coach Robertson, of Oglethorpe will be among those at the game.

BARRON TEAM DEFEATS B. H. S.

Monroe, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—The Monroe Aggies today defeated Boys' High school of Atlanta, 14 to 0, by superior playing in the second half. Through the whole of the first half, the ball zig-zagged up and down the field, first in possession of one team, then in possession of the other. Monroe played good mechanical ball in the two quarters, but a dose of over confidence prevented their injecting fight and drive into the play.

Boys' High, on the contrary, fought superbly through the whole of the game, and thus equaled, to a great extent, the natural differences between the teams.

In the second half Monroe came to life and for full 30 minutes played a brand of ball that was sufficient to bring victory over a hard-fighting team. Monroe had the punch in these periods, and drove the ball relentlessly down the field.

The first touchdown was scored on a pass, Ritchie to Jones. Previous to the last play, however, Monroe had made four or five successive first downs on straight football.

Boys' High then resorted to desperate football to hang on to a tie. Part of this desperate program included passes deep in its own territory. One of these was intercepted by Monroe. A couple of short jabs, and then Captain Ritchie carried the ball around right end for about ten yards and a touchdown. Pat Barron kicked both goals.

Among the stars of the game for Monroe was Darnel, who is playing his third year on the varsity. From his position at end, he was a constant source of danger to the Boys' High game, and had to be removed. An examination proved his shoulder in bad shape. He will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season. His loss will be a severe blow to Monroe, for his experience and stability proved a bulwark in the line.

Rockne's Army Invasion Tops Today's Grid Card

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, October 16.—Now that baseball has quit crowding the air, the music of the gridiron will rise from a million throats Saturday afternoon with full freedom of speech as the big teams begin to slug in earnest against other big teams and the little ones go back to fight out olden quarrels with their own kind. The preliminary tramping has wrought a certain efficiency among the major league squads and a certain humility among their victims. But beyond that no result is discernible in most cases, for the majority of the scores of these early slughters were so high in favor of the big ones that their true power obviously wasn't tested.

The big test in the east will be occupied by the Army and Notre Dame, whose football feud, although young by comparison with the antique animosities of Yale and Harvard, is nevertheless beginning to develop an historic background. This will be the thirteenth game between the incipient soldiers and the teams from South Bend which are jealously known as the Irish because the average lineup usually includes at least one Swede, one Pole, one German, a Frenchman and a lad with the blood of American miners springing through his veins. The army first felt the imprint of Notre Dame's cleats in 1913 on which occasion the mid-western marauder ran up a score of 35 to 0. Since then in 11 games the army has won just twice and tied once.

Four Horsemen Named. Last year Notre Dame won and the Notre Dame backfield played such wild, fierce football that the charging quartet was dubbed the four horsemen—famine, dyspepsia, hard luck and something else, in the order named. The four equestrians have left Notre Dame and this year Knute Rockne, the coach, brings a squad of 37 young men to New York for the old Army game, only a few of whom have had previous varsity experience and those few very little.

Rockne said Notre Dame didn't expect to win and his comments were interrupted by incredulous laughter. Nobody ever believes Rockne when he says he doesn't expect to win. The Yankee stadium will be crowded for this game, which has become a business proposition. New York wants to see big games and New York will pay more than South Bend or West Point.

The Yale-Penn game will be the first trial of the Blue against a first-class squad. Yale, with another strong team, hasn't been pressed thus far, but Penn was tried and found tough in a collision with Brown, which Penn won.

Other Good Games. Princeton and the Navy will meet

PECK MERITS BOOBY PRIZE

Pittsburgh, October 15.—(AP)—Roger Peckinpah broke all world's series records for the worst fielding in the big classic, making eight errors and breaking the marks of Hans Wagner, who made six booby errors in 1903, and Joey Sewell, who ran up a string of six in 1920.

The previous error records were made by shortstops, a position most likely to run up the largest number of misplays.

Watts Gunn, Only Amateur In First Ten, and Beckett Finish in Tie for Second

William P. Goebel, Charlotte (N. C.) pro, stepped away from a fast field of amateurs and professionals at Brookhaven Friday, shooting 146, to win the southeastern P. G. A. open golf championship.

In the field of 10 winners of medals and money there was just one amateur. He was Watts Gunn, runner-up to Bobby Jones in the recent national amateur tournament, who tied with Howard Beckett, Capital City club, for second. Each had 151 for the 36 holes.

Birmingham was the only city represented to have more than one man in the money. Charles Hall, of Birmingham, and Harry Duff, of Macon, tied with 156 each for sixth money, and Dan Goss, also of Birmingham, came in eighth with his 157.

Asheville Pro Fourth. Fourth place went to Frank Clark, Asheville pro, shooting 152 and George Livingstone, of Belle Meade, Nashville, was at Tennessee city's only winner when he took fifth with his 153.

Wilbur Oakes, of Chattanooga, came in ninth with 159, and Dave Spittal, Savannah pro, was tenth with 160, just one stroke worse.

Among the pros who failed to figure in the first ten places that carried the prizes were Freddie Hyatt, of Charlotte, N. C., and Bob Andrews, of Birmingham. Hyatt had 164 and Andrews 163. Peter Grandison, of Nashville, was another entry who was looked on as a winner, for he was in the winning combination in the pro-amateur preliminary tournament Thursday at Brookhaven.

Goebel shot remarkable golf over the difficult 6,100-yard Brookhaven course to score his 146. He shot two 18-hole rounds in 73 each, just two over a close-clipped par of 71. Goebel had his best nine holes coming in on the last 18 when he kept his card down to a 33, two under par for the second nine of the course.

Watts Gunn, the only amateur to show in the first 10, displayed most of the form that took him to the runner-up position two months ago in his first national amateur golf tournament. Gunn shot 77 on his first eighteen, but clipped this figure down to a 74 on his second eighteen holes. He was far above the form he displayed in the pro-amateur best ball event Thursday.

Beckett Consistent. Beckett was the more consistent of

AUTO KILLS BOY, TWO OTHERS HURT

Albert Capilauto, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Capilauto, 351 Central avenue, was struck by an automobile truck in front of his home Friday afternoon, receiving injuries from which he died an hour later at Grady hospital. L. E. Harrison, who gave a Pullman street address, was taken into custody by police on charges of reckless driving, but later was released under bond of $2,000. Harrison told policemen he was driving at the rate of about 15 miles an hour when the child ran from the sidewalk and under the wheels of the one-ton truck, efforts to avoid him were futile, the driver said.

Miss Thelma Lawson, of 307 Central avenue, was first to reach the child after having heard him scream. She summoned an ambulance, but while waiting for it, J. L. Stockwell, a friend of Miss Lawson, drove by and took the boy to the hospital.

Miss Mildred Spriggs, 16, of 1 Baltimore block, was injured Thursday in an automobile accident, according to a report to police Friday. No details of the accident were given. The girl is at Grady hospital recovering from cuts and bruises.

Guy Smith, of Center Hill, was treated for a fractured arm and cuts and bruises received, he told officers, when he lost control of his automobile and it was wrecked.

SIX INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY JURY AGAINST HOOKER

Six indictments, two charging felony and four simple larceny, were returned by the Fulton county jury Friday against Thomas H. Hooker, alias Homer Stark, alias Thomas Stark.

Hooker, an 18-year-old youth, was arrested Saturday, October 10, by Patrolman G. N. Ellis, following the disappearance of a number of suit cases, the property of prominent Atlantans. At police headquarters he stated that his home was in Spokane, Wash., and that he was a son of Robert L. Hooker, a captain of the Salvation Army who served overseas during the war.

Hooker is alleged to have forged the name of Homer Stark, of Commerce, on two checks on an Athens bank for $20 and $10.

The simple larceny charges grew out of alleged thefts by Hooker of suit cases containing clothing from Homer Stark, valued at $125; W. C. Meyer, valued at $275; W. C. Graham, valued at $75, and V. H. Baker, valued at $10.

Athens Club Wants State Bond Issue For Good Roads

Athens, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) If Governor Clifford Walker calls a special session of the legislature to settle the Confederate scrip matter, the Athens Booster club proposes to call for the upbuilding of Georgia roads.

The club has adopted a resolution urging the governor to ask the legislature to call an election to decide whether Georgia shall issue several millions of dollars worth of bonds for highway purposes. The club points out that Georgia must have a modern road system if it expects to adequately meet the competition of other states.

EAST POINT CHAMBER PLANS FOR MEMBERS

East Point, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) The East Point Chamber of Commerce held a meeting at the city hall Thursday evening and plans were perfected for a membership drive, which will be launched soon. It is expected that within a short time the membership will reach a high mark, as the business men are boosting the movement.

"We are well pleased with the progress of the organization," says J. E. Hughes, the president. "It is certainly gratifying to see how the business men, the manufacturers and the professional men are all aiding in this movement."

Next Thursday night, October 22, the next meeting will be held at the city hall and all committees are requested to be on hand and make a report. Citizens of America and the upbuilding of East Point and south Fulton county are invited to this meeting.

Caillaux Warns He Is Opposed To Capital Levy

Nice, France, October 16.—(AP.) The question of a capital levy, with former Premier Herriot as its champion and Finance Minister Caillaux opposing it, dominated today's session of the radical socialist congress, and, although no vote was taken, M. Herriot appeared to have the majority of the parties lined up behind him against the finance minister.

M. Caillaux held a capital levy to be an act of "financial demagoguery." M. Herriot proclaimed it a patriotic act under the present circumstances. M. Caillaux warned the assembly against the dangers of a capital levy, saying:

"Germany resorted to a capital levy twice and each time paid for the war. I will work with you in the elaboration of the most advanced fiscal program possible, but I must warn you that before I adopt it, I must feel that it is not dangerous to the country. I am in command of the financial ship of state, and I shall not steer it on the rocks." "Citizen Caillaux," as he was introduced to the congress by the presiding officer, Senator Pasquet, declared that wealth in France was already taxed up to 63 per cent of its revenue, and it was impossible for him to do more in that quarter.

He admitted there was 20 billion francs remaining in the treasury for restoration of liberated regions, and warned against imprudent words, "which might endanger the system of loans to which the country is certain to have to resort again."

M. Caillaux said that the maturing payments due this year amounted to 22 billion francs, but the floating debt of 55 billion francs had been greatly decreased by the gold granted 4 per cent loan now in progress.

"The financial policy of my predecessors has been one of illusions and lies," he said. "I wish to tell the country exactly where it stands and what it will have to do. I will not flinch before necessary reforms, no matter how radical, but I am an adversary of financial demagoguery."

voted to extend this office to those women who are fitted by training, education and character to read prayer and give instruction on special occasions. They are to be appointed by the bishop of the diocese. The house of bishops must concur in the vote of the deputies to make it final.

Change in Doctrine.

In the church doctrine on original sin, the bishop of Colorado, Rt. Rev. Irving J. Johnson, moved to substitute the phrase "born in sin" for that "born unto sin." Bishop Paul Matthews proposed a sweeping change by amending the phrase to "born prone to sin."

The house of bishops voted in favor of the Matthews' proposal.

A list of 54 black letter saints proposed for addition to the Episcopal Church calendar was moved by a layman from former United States Attorney General Wickham, a deputy, who said: "I do not know where this list of saints came from. It is a list of unknown personages of the early and middle ages was made up. If it should not be stricken out entirely, it should be amended by including the name of George Washington and some others. But if a school-boy had been asked to make up a list of names of those who had rendered great service to Christianity and then had produced this list, he would have been marked zero."

Retain "Upstart Saints."

The clerical members of the house of deputies voted to retain the list of "upstart saints," among whom St. George, of England, was noted, but the lay members voted to exclude it.

The matter will come up again before the house of bishops.

A spirited argument of two hours' duration was conducted on the question of the Episcopal church becoming a member of the Federal Council of Churches. Bishop Charles H. Brent, of western New York, chairman of the joint committee to report on the subject, favored the departure.

Bishop Johnson, of Colorado, was the chief opponent. The move was defeated, but the house of bishops voted to retain the status quo of cooperation with the council in social service work.

The house of bishops voted to strike the word "only" from the office, which reads:

"Christ has ordained two sacraments, as generally necessary to salvation."

Thayer Heads Pioneers.

SEEKS TO CREATE TRAFFIC BUREAU

Resolutions calling for establishment of a separate traffic bureau of the Atlanta police department, charged with the specific duty of enforcement of the city's traffic laws, and repeal of the recent ordinance raising the speed limit of motor vehicles and substitution of another providing a speed limit of 30 miles an hour on traffic boulevards, will be introduced in city council Monday night.

Alderman C. M. Ford, of the tenth ward, and member of the traffic committee of city council, stated Friday at a meeting of the Atlanta Safety council that he would introduce such bills as that he would insist on their adoption in the interest of safety.

Repeal of the city speed laws would place speed limits at 20 miles an hour within the inner city zone and 25 miles an hour in the outer zone and his substitute resolution permitting a 30-mile speed would apply only to traffic arteries designated as traffic boulevards, he explained.

Mr. Ford's announcement came after George Delbert, secretary of the Atlanta Safety council, reported that traffic accidents have increased about three years since the new speed law was made effective on September 23. James A. Hollomon, president, presided at the meeting.

"The 30-mile speed law seems to be responsible for this increase in accidents," Mr. Delbert said, "and while we are heartily in sympathy with the move to speed up traffic, yet we are unwilling to jeopardize the lives of thousands of our citizens and millions of dollars worth of property to achieve this end."

Chief Justice R. B. Russell, of the Georgia supreme court; A. W. Calver, recorder of the Atlanta police court; and Murphy Holloway, assistant recorder; John T. Hancock, president of the Atlanta board of education; C. C. Davis and Henderson Hallman were other speakers.

U. S. RANKED THIRD AMONG AIR POWERS

advoated by General Patrick and Colonel William Mitchell.

While he was testifying, the first air brigade of the army commanded by Brigadier General James E. Fechet, assistant air chief, flew over the capital on its way to Aberdeen, Md., where maneuvers will be held tomorrow.

"There goes all of our air force," Major Arnold asserted. "It has 35 planes, the largest number of any of the world's air forces, and it is being defended Washington."

He explained that these machines were all of the pursuit, bombardment and attack planes, and that he did not mean to imply this was the total number of army planes available, as there were several hundred assigned to other activities.

Major Arnold was one of the first officers transferred to the air service at the time of its organization in 1911 and from then until 1916, he related, he spent much time teaching higher ranking officers to fly but none qualified as a satisfactory pilot.

At the outset of the war, he was asked to recommend an officer to head aviation work in France. He declared, "but I was either too young or too low in rank to do."

He recalled that several other recommendations also were rejected, and that finally he had said: "Well, there's Colonel So and So; take him."

"He didn't know anything about aviation, and I'll be damned if he didn't select him," the major declared.

J. D. Smith, 21, of 58 Barnett street, narrowly escaped serious injury Friday night when his automobile struck a bridge on the Marietta road at Hills park. Smith, who was driving alone, was thrown out of the car and received several bruises.

He told police that another automobile drove directly in front of his machine as he was driving to Atlanta and he swerved to keep from striking it. As he did his automobile struck a beam on the bridge and threw him out of the car backwards, standing it upright on the rear end, he said.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN FOR ATHENS CHAMBER

Athens, Ga., October 16.—(Special.) A membership campaign will be launched here next week by the Athens Chamber of Commerce. The body has been reorganized in order that dues will be within reach of every man in the city. G. C. Thomas has been elected general secretary.

W. T. Forbes is general director of the campaign. Meetings Thursday and Friday night were held which drew large crowds of citizens and much interest was shown in the enlarged plans of the chamber, which include advertisement of Athens to the outside world. G. A. Booth is president.

3 OFFICERS "LET OUT" OF PROHIBITION FORCE

Savannah, Ga., October 16.—(AP.) S. M. Moye, William Lefevre and William C. Mobray, members of the prohibition force for the southern district of Georgia, were "let out" of the service last night.

The change was announced this morning by F. G. Dismuke, deputy administrator, upon his return to headquarters from Macon, where he attended court.

Dismuke has a force of 14 on the staff and with J. T. McCallister, his assistant, he is convinced the local situation can be handled adequately.

of the treasury for state highway construction, it was said at the white house. Mr. Coolidge explained that this did not represent one year's allotment, but was an accumulation. The president considers this entirely too

"The president does not favor the 50-50 federal-state highway plan, where by the federal government matches appropriations made by the states. He has made this known before, in warning against too great federal aid of all kinds to the states, which he considers unwise. However, the plan has been established by congress, and will continue. Coolidge hopes that it will be in a modified form."

Carried to Extreme.

It was denied that the president had indicated to Secretary of Agriculture Jardine that he would oppose federal appropriation for building roads in the states. The bureau of public roads, in the department of agriculture, is in charge of administering federal aid funds.

Coolidge believes the federal aid policy has been carried to the extreme. The purpose of the act was to aid in development of post roads, as designated under the constitution, it was explained, whereas the money has been applied to secondary roads.

The 50-50 plan, he believes, has a tendency to press states to appropriate money for roads that they can not well afford.

He wants to keep the expenditures within bounds, and he considers that this is not the case now. It was made clear that the president is agreeable to have the government spend a reasonable sum for state aid.

Niece of Dawes Arrives Too Late To See Her Uncle

Because she elected to come to Atlanta by automobile instead of accompanying her parents on a train from Jacksonville, Miss Mary Dawes Hoyt, pretty niece of Vice President Charles G. Dawes, missed seeing her uncle Friday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoyt, spent most of the day with General Dawes and saw him off for Indianapolis when he left Atlanta at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Miss Hoyt did not reach Atlanta until 6 o'clock, when she called The Constitution to learn where she could find her distinguished uncle and was told he had left the city.

Mrs. Hoyt, a sister of General Dawes, and Mr. Hoyt arrived early Friday morning by train and went to the home of Clark Howell, Sr., where General Dawes had been a guest since reaching Atlanta. They stayed there with the general until he left and then accompanied him to the railway station. Afterward they left an automobile trip to Stone Mountain.

It's like this, Miss Hoyt explained, "I want to see my uncle. Tech game and so did my father and mother. They told me they were coming, so I decided to come to Atlanta with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McWhorter. They came on the train and our auto party started early enough to have been here before Uncle Charlie left. We ran into fog and had to slow down."

Another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt, Nancy, also is in Atlanta for the football game. "Stan," a student of Florida Woman's college at Tallahassee.

Mr. Hoyt is a prominent real estate dealer of Jacksonville, and is president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce. His wife is the youngest sister of General Dawes. She spent the summer at the Dawes home in Evanston, a suburb of Chicago.

The family expects to return to Jacksonville tonight after the Tech-Florida football game.

streets through which the royal carriage proceeded toward Buckingham palace.

The queen and other members of the royal family drove unostentatiously in closed cars direct to the palace. The enthusiastic cheering at Victoria station, which lasted several minutes, was broadcast by radio throughout England, giving the king and the queen a chance to participate in the welcome. This cheering continued in great volume all along the route.

The Prince of Wales appeared bronzed and happy but tired, although not too weary to dazzle the crowds with his famous smile.

Shortly after the return to the palace, the king issued the following message:

"The warm-hearted affection of the welcome given our son in London today, the hearty and thoughtful welcome which the queen and I feel for his safe home-coming. His return marks the completion of his missions to the different dominions of the empire undertaken in the past year, including visits to the United States and South America. I know that millions who have associated with him in these journeys will be glad to hear of his return and his companions in their eventual travels."

The king also sent messages to the governors and administrators of the United States of America, Northern and Southern Rhodesia, Sierra Leone, Cambodia, the Congo, Nigeria, and the Heland, thanking them warmly for the affection with which his son was received everywhere.

Sportively Speaking

By
H.C. HAMILTON
Florida Here Strong.
Gators Formidable
Bucky's Flareback.

SOME Atlanta folk may be inclined to pass over the clash between Florida and Georgia Tech on the football field here this afternoon as just a football game on the schedule, but the fact is Florida is making it a point of honor to win from Tech and do it by a sizeable score. One of the great crowds of visiting partisans ever to crowd into the stadium at Grant field will be on hand to cheer for the "Gators," and they do not mean perhaps.

The Ansley hotel late Friday had closed its books to the invading horde after having provided for 500 of the visiting Floridians, but long after that they came to plead and beg. More than 1,200 Florida rooters were forced to look elsewhere for a non-leaking roof to cover them Friday night while they girded themselves for a vocal combat with the well-known Ramblin' Wreck.

LOTS of remarks have been overheard sailing around Peachtree and Forsyth streets over the possibilities of the Florida team, which tied Tech a year ago. Most of the braggadocio chattering inclines to the belief that Tech will win by 20 points.

We feel the same about it, but since wandering about through the maze of Florida supporters we have come to the conclusion that Florida is here for a purpose, which is to beat Georgia Tech. They are going to take the field this afternoon for the big end of the score. They do not hope to tie and they simply refuse to lose. Determination is a big thing in this life.

It carried Pittsburgh to a world's baseball championship. We beat Georgia Tech, for the sake of our own reputation, to whip Florida, for we have called the 1925 Tech team the best in the school's history and do not like to take it back.

ACCORDING to the telegraph wires, Bucky Harris has decided that Ban Johnson is impudent, knows nothing about baseball and should keep his mouth shut about Harris' action in leaving Walter Johnson in the last ball game with Pittsburgh until he was soundly beaten. The last part of the remark may have been right, according to Harris' own view of it, but it is hard to believe that a president of the American league cannot express his opinion of a baseball club which cost his league the championship of the baseball world.

The flareup of the young manager against Mr. Johnson only accentuates the point the venerable president of the league sought to point out. He was peevish to think someone who counted should give to the fans an honest opinion which was correct.

BAN JOHNSON knows something about baseball. He organized the American league in 1900 after having been sports editor of a Cincinnati newspaper for some years. He saw and covered baseball and he grasped the baseball situation more keenly than any other man when he fought the National league to a standstill, forced the recognition of the American league as the equal of the elder body, and then brought about the world's series.

Had it not been for the valiant fight of Ban Johnson the Federal league would have made further inroads into the two big leagues, but he was able to handle the situation almost singlehanded. His criticism of Harris, as it was printed in Atlanta, did not appear to us right, and, what is more, it was a criticism freely expressed everywhere, and, what is more, it was correct. Harris' comeback was unwarranted.

Features of Big Show

Seven Conference Games Feature South's Program

Today's Grid Card

New Orleans, October 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fourteen southern conference football teams engaged in inter-conference games tomorrow with a good chance of scrambling the dope before the day is done.

One of the most interesting games in the south will be the annual tilt between Sewanee and Alabama at Birmingham. The Crimson is reported at the top of its game and Sewanee came back to the mountain from Texas with a record of real achievement in getting a six-six draw with the Texas aggies.

If scores of former years are to be taken seriously, Florida and Georgia Tech will have a battle at Atlanta.

Washington and Lee goes to Lexington, Ky., to meet Kentucky in a game in which anything seems likely to happen and Tulane and Mississippi proposition at New Orleans.

Tennessee and Vanderbilt play at Nashville with the Commodores given an edge although the Volunteers have pointed for the struggle.

V. P. I. after a defeat at the hands of Auburn, meets Maryland, conqueror of Rutgers, and Georgia Tech will have a battle at Atlanta.

Virginia was made a favorite over V. M. I. on the basis of the Cavaliers' defeat of Georgia while the Flying Cadets were brought to a full stop by Georgia Tech.

North Carolina and North Carolina State played yesterday and South Carolina will play Wofford this afternoon. Clemson is idle waiting for its fair week with the Gamecocks and L. S. U. will play its freshmen team.

Auburn goes to Dallas for a game with Texas. Georgia and Furman play at Augusta and "Ole Miss" meets Union at Oxford.

A. and M. is considered an all-even game.

GAINESVILLE HIGH RUNS WILD

Gainesville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—For the third time in the last three years, the Gainesville High school team has won the state championship of the Georgia High school association by defeating the strong Decatur High by the score of 44 to 0.

In spite of the continual rains of the past week, the field was not muddy and in only a few places slippery.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd that has ever attended a football game here. They knew of the hard battle and the rivalry of the two teams and they all turned out to see the battle of the year.

Gainesville showed a remarkable offensive and defensive game, and Decatur was not able to carry the ball anywhere near the Gainesville goal, while the Gainesvillians crossed the Decatur line for six runs.

Most of the gains were a 44-yard drop kick by Rothstein, which went straight between the goal.

The touchdowns were scored by Miller Paris, Rothstein, Edmondson, and Harris.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Mrs. Miles Was Miserable a Long Time—Owes Final Recovery to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dover, Ohio.—"After my last baby was born I was up and around again, but I was sickly all the time and did not know how to get my work done. I had washed a heavy carpet and I thought that was the cause of my troubles. I went to several doctors, but their medicines did not do me any good. I asked one of your text-books and was reading it and I thought I would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After four days of taking it I began to feel better, so I took three bottles without missing a dose. That helped me more than any other medicine I had yet taken and I always have it handy now. It surely did put me on my feet again."—Mrs. JAMES MILES, 419 Cherry Street, Dover, Ohio.

BEAUTY CHATS

BY EDNA M. FORBES.

A BAD NECK.

Several letters recently have asked about creases in the neck, one of them from a young girl of 18, one from a girl of 23 both saying their necks look 30. There is never an excuse for an old neck, not even in an old woman, the neck is too easily treated.

First of all, be sure that you do not sleep with the pillows too high. Lie flat on your back on your bed, with your pillows as usual, and see whether your chin is pushed down, and feel whether the skin of the neck is pushed into folds. If so, sleep with thinner pillows, or the wider pillows, so that the shoulders are supported and the neck is not pushed into an unhealthy position. If possible, sleep without any pillows at all.

The second part of the treatment consists of massage, and cocoa butter is the very best thing to massage with, unless the neck is too fat. In the latter case, massage with cleansing cream, which won't help make flesh, and massage harder. Bunch the five fingers and work them in small circles over the neck. If you use the butter, roll a little gauze around the neck to protect your clothing, and give the treatment at night.

The third part is astriction. Take a small piece of ice, roll it in a bit of muslin and go over and over the neck after the massage.

And the rest is holding the head correctly, for carrying the chin forward and down often creases the neck; and wearing proper collars. Anything that binds hurts the neck, and dark colors rub dye and dirt into the skin. Tight bands rub the skin brown and make it hard.

Rolling the head around the shoulders is a good exercise to strengthen the neck muscles.

Dickie.—The swollen ankles could come from the strain you mention. If you can keep your feet elevated for a few days, and the swelling lessens, you will know there is nothing wrong with your health.

Weak ankles can be strengthened through a stimulating massage. In most cases of swollen ankles, relief from strain will be all that is needed. If rest does not help you, consult the doctor about the matter.

G. R.—Massage a very little bit of olive oil into your scalp several times a week to counteract the dryness. If you send a stamped self-addressed envelope I will be glad to mail you a formula for a hair tonic to correct this condition.

John T.—The trouble with your ear may come from your teeth. Why not consult a dentist? You should have no prejudice in the matter. From what you say of your teeth, I should think an X-ray would be needed.

Edna Kent Forbes is now ready to fill a long-felt need on the part of her readers—list of subjects for her important of her excellent beauty hints in illustrated pamphlet form. To secure this valuable information you must address Miss Forbes in this paper, asking for her pamphlet, "Beauty," and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope (s.a.s.e.) and 10 cents in stamps.

BENNETT ENJOINED FROM COLLECTING TARBUTTON NOTE

A temporary injunction to prevent T. R. Bennett, state bank examiner, from filing suit to collect on a $5,000 note given by G. A. Tarbutton, wealthy land owner who was shot and killed near Wrightsville, Ga., several months ago, was granted Friday by Judge George L. Bell, of Fulton Superior court.

The injunction was sought by W. A. Wray, Jr., president of the Citizens bank of Sandersville, who pointed out in the petition that Tarbutton borrowed $29,000 from him in 1923 and gave as security a $50,000 life insurance policy. The life insurance policies figured in the trials of J. J. Tanner, land owner, and Charles G. Rawlings, bank official, who were found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of Tarbutton. Tanner was given a new trial by a ruling of the Georgia supreme court a few days ago.

National Agrarian Policy Urged by Lowden To Restore, Preserve Fertility of Soil

Agricultural Plant of America Rapidly Weakening and Needs Attention, He Declares.

Chicago, October 16.—Declaring that "the great agricultural plant of America has been running down for many years, but never so rapidly as during the past five years," ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, urged a national agrarian policy which will restore and preserve the fertility of our soil, in an address before the annual dinner of the Audit Bureau of Circulation here Friday night.

"There is no more important question before the American people," he said, "and the first principle of this policy is that agriculture must be made profitable."

Lowden said that fertility of the soil was the sole limiting factor to expansion of the industrial era, which now holds sway. Declaring that "the time is approaching when no nation can maintain a population beyond its ability to feed it on its own soil," he pointed out that fertility of America's soil was essential to prosperity.

"There is but enough phosphorus in the soil of the Mississippi valley to produce 135 crops, though of course with diminishing returns," he said. "In our great corn belt most of our best lands have already produced from 50 to 75 crops. Yet it is safe to say that not one farmer in a thousand maintains the fertility of his fields. This is not the concern of the farmer alone, but should be the concern of all. For sooner or later that deterioration will result in higher prices for food."

Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, discussed government regulation of business in an address before the members, and declared that the burdensome laws of today are passed because of demand from the people.

"When you complain about too many laws being passed, don't forget that 95 per cent of them were inspired by the people back home," he said.

"Seven, sir," Soffel answered. Seven dimes were poured in his hands and the oil king drove off wishing the recipient good luck.

A Newark policeman a month ago was given five dimes.

"Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the only thing that relieved me of constipation"

Beware of the dangerous diseases which are constipation's toll.

Constipation is dreaded, not only for its insidious self, but for the serious diseases which may be traced to it. Mr. Palladino tells us the helpful story of his relief:

Doing hard work while constipated brought on piles, from which I suffered for two years. I tried all kinds of remedies without success. Finally I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and it has made me well again. It is the only thing that helped me and I want everybody to know about it.

(Signed) JOHN PALLADINO, Clementon, N. Y.

You can get sure, prompt, permanent relief from constipation. Simply eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

NUMBER OF FARMS DECREASES 75,653

Washington, October 16.—(AP)—The number of farms in the United States has decreased 75,653 since 1920, the department of commerce disclosed tonight in a preliminary announcement of the 1925 farm census, which fixed the total at 6,637,008.

The decrease was not general, some sections reporting declines, while increases were shown in others.

Texas, with 466,420 farms, led the field in the 1925 census, and also had the greatest increase, 30,387, over the 1920 figure. Its rate of increase, 7 per cent, was not the highest, however. Nevada, with 23.7 per cent, led in this respect with 3,912 farms in 1925, as compared with the 3,163 in 1920.

Georgia has Largest Decrease.

The greatest decrease in the number of farms was reported in Georgia, where the total dropped from 510,732 in 1920 to 249,098 this year, a decline of 51.8 per cent. The District of Columbia, which contained the smallest number of farms, had a higher percentage of decrease, however, having only 139 farms in 1925 as compared with 204 in 1920.

A decline in the number of farms in the cotton states was attributed to the boll weevil and the migration of negro farm workers. A succession of dry seasons had a similar effect in part of the northwest, while the consolidation of farms and a general recession from the war-time expansion in agriculture were held accountable for decreases generally.

Census of Southern States.

The number of farms in the southern states, for the current census year, was 2,490,998, as compared with 2,920,408 in 1920. The following table shows the change in the number of farms in each of the southern states:

State	Farms 1920	Farms 1925	Dec.

MEXICO INVESTIGATES PANI SCANDAL STORY

Mexico City, October 16.—The Mexican chamber of deputies yesterday debated reports linking the name of Alberto J. Pani, secretary of finance, with Gloria Faure, Mexican actress, alleged to have accompanied him into the United States in violation of American law.

Several deputies voiced severe criticism of Secretary Pani and later a committee from the chamber waited upon President Calles and urged that he request Señor Pani's resignation.

The president replied non-committally, saying he had not been informed regarding the report. Furthermore, he pointed out, Secretary Pani is not engaged in an official mission to the United States but is conferring with private citizens there.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Hubbard on Tuesday instructed the immigration authorities at New York to take no action on a complaint seeking the deportation of Senora Faure. The department officials said the political enemy of Senora Pani was responsible for the complaint and that no evidence in substantiation had been submitted.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

"The Starving Time"

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

MISFORTUNE SEEMED TO FOLLOW THE DEVELOPMENT OF JAMESTOWN. IN THE AUTUMN OF 1609, CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH WAS SO BADLY INJURED BY THE EXPLOSION OF A BAG OF GUNPOWDER THAT HE WAS FORCED TO RETURN TO ENGLAND.

WITHOUT A STRONG LEADER THE JAMESTOWN SETTLERS SOON FELL INTO THEIR IDLE WAYS. THE OLD DESIRE TO HUNT FOR GOLD CAUSED THEM TO GIVE UP THE WORK IN THE FIELDS AND WITHOUT CARE THE CROPS FAILED. THEN CAME WINTER AND WITH IT WHAT WAS KNOWN AS THE STARVING TIME. IN THE SPRING BUT SIXTY MEN WERE STILL ALIVE OF A POPULATION OF FIVE HUNDRED.

SOON AFTER SIR THOMAS GATES CAME TO JAMESTOWN AS DEPUTY GOVERNOR TO RULE IN PLACE OF THE COUNCIL. WHEN HE LANDED HE WAS SHOCKED TO FIND THE COLONY IN SUCH A DEPLORABLE CONDITION.

DECIDING THAT THE COLONY WAS A SAD FAILURE GATES ORDERED THE SETTLERS TO ABANDON THE TOWN. THEY EMBARKED ON THE WAITING SHIPS AND SAILED AWAY FROM THE SCENE OF THEIR MANY TRIALS.

AS THEY SAILED OUT INTO THE CHESAPEAKE THEY MET THE FLEET OF LORD DELAWARE COMING WITH RECRUITS FOR THE COLONY AND TOGETHER THEY RETURNED TO JAMESTOWN. Monday — GOVERNOR DALE.

A Little Saturday Talk

In our history stories this week, we have spoken about the religion of the people of ancient Egypt. I think it is interesting to learn about the strange ideas of olden times, don't you? I shall always be pleased to receive your questions, and I shall answer all I possibly find space for. Address your letters in care of this paper.

Next week, we shall speak of other customs and ideas of the Egyptians. One thing we shall talk about is the school life of the children of that far-distant time, and the toys which boys and girls owned. We shall also take up the outdoor sports of men and women and shall see what kind of pictures artists drew to make people laugh. On one day, the story will have the title, "Building the Great Pyramid." That is no longer a mystery, and I shall tell you all I have been able to discover about the way that mighty tomb was built. Do you know what was the purpose of the Great Sphinx? That is no longer a mystery as it once was, and perhaps we shall speak of that, too, during the coming week.

Last Saturday I promised to publish a letter from a pupil in a Swiss school. While I was in Switzerland I spent two days in a little village named Bollingen. Even though it was July, the children were still in school. Their summer vacation was to commence about a week later. All the boys and girls seemed anxious to write to children in America. I brought about 40 letters back with me. I wish I might publish all of them, but there is hardly room for that. Here is one from boy: Bollingen, Switzerland, July 25. Dear American Friends: Today I want to write a little letter to you.

and I hope that it will please you. What part of America do you live in? Are you always in good health? I am a 15-year-old boy, and am the son of a miller. The mill is on the side of a road near Bollingen. In front of our house runs a river in which I swim almost every Sunday. We have a big trustworthy dog who is called "Prince." He has a house which I built for him. When he hears something in the night he starts to bark.

"In the mill we keep some little pussy-cats and their mother. Two of the small ones are all white. Cats are very good to have in a mill. At present we are in cherry time, and all the farmers are busy picking cherries. We have a cherry tree right behind our house.

"From my heart I send you greetings. Your friend, OTTO WALTHER."

This letter was written in German. So I have put it into English for you. How many children would like to write to Otto, or to the children of Bollingen? If you wish to send a letter, enclose it in an envelope addressed to me, and I shall forward it to Switzerland. Later I plan to print a letter from a Swiss girl.

SCIENTIST SAYS SECRET OF LIFE LIES IN LIGHT

Chicago, October 16.—(AP)—"Light is life," and evolutionists seeking the source will find it in the study of physics—if ever it is found, says Dr. J. U. Giesy, of Salt Lake City, in a lecture prepared for delivery here today before the physiotherapeutic convention.

Instead of searching for the primal germ in the protozoa science must go back to the collides and beyond them to action of the sun's rays, he said, and there the spark of life and light alike probably will be found.

Dr. Giesy explained that for years it has been known that cod liver oil carried the quality of sunlight into the body literally and affected through it the biology of the cell itself.

"This same principle now is being carried out with synthetic foods, radiated with either sunlight or a synthetic equivalent. The yolk of eggs, dried milk, vegetable oils and a few substances are known to be capable of radiation. Roughly speaking, they absorb chemical elements that build up the line content of the body."

He warned against too prolonged exposure to sunlight, saying that shorter dosages are beneficial, while prolonged ones are decidedly harmful because the body absorbs too much ultraviolet radiation.

RUMOR OF DEATH OF ALEXANDRA DENIED AT PALACE

London, October 16.—(AP)—A rumor that Queen Mother Alexandra was dead, emanating from an unknown source, was persistently spread throughout London early this morning, causing considerable commotion until it was finally squelched by official denial from Sandringham castle, where the aged widow of Edward VII makes her home.

An official with whom newspapermen communicated said:

"Queen Alexandra has just returned from her usual daily drive in her motor car and is enjoying her usual health."

The official added that he had heard the rumor before.

3 DEAD, ONE WOUNDED IN ETOWAH TRAGEDY

Etowah, Tenn., October 16.—(AP)—Three dead and another seriously wounded is the toll of a tragedy which occurred in North Etowah last night. Ben Parker returning home from work about 6:15 o'clock failed to find his family and apparently became enraged. He went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Morrow across the street and finding his wife and baby there shot them down and seriously wounded Mr. Morrow. Then he started for his home and had just reached the front yard when he fell mortally wounded. Whether he shot himself or was killed by another person is a mystery. There were no powder burns on the body and at his side was a .38 caliber revolver which he had used. A .32 caliber in shooting the other three.

FLORIDA CITRUS CROP BELOW EXPECTATIONS

Washington, October 16.—(AP)—An estimate that citrus fruit shipment from Florida this year would total 17,500,000 boxes was made today by the department of agriculture.

The estimate was considerably below that made by the department several weeks ago, growers now expecting only 16 per cent of a full crop of oranges, as against their expectations of 80 per cent of a full crop last month. There was a like reduction of the expected grapefruit production.

The estimate was for shipments of 11,000,000 boxes of oranges, including tangerines, and 6,500,000 boxes of grapefruit. Shipments from the state last year totaled 17,500,000 boxes of oranges and 8,200,000 boxes of grapefruit.

Peary Commander Withheld News Of Ship Accident

Boston, October 16.—(AP)—The Boston Transcript, in a copyrighted story today, says that the grounding of the steamer Peary on a reef near Hopedale, Labrador, while not bound, nearly resulted in the loss of the ship and the disruption of the MacMillan Arctic expedition. It is the transcript's disclosure that E. J. McDonald, Jr., commander of the ship, saying that he suppressed information of the disaster on his own volition, and that he was the first disclosure of the accident came today when the ship was docked at the navy yard here to be repaired. The transcript said that Peary was carried to Hopedale, where it was suddenly struck an uncharted reef with a force which threw men from their feet. It then listed alarmingly. The crew worked hard to lift the ship, but as the ship did not list further a lifeboat was lowered to rig a kedge anchor and a line was carried to Bowdoin.

The Peary was pulled clear, but in so doing the lifeboat was fouled. Commander McDonald, in attempting to free the lifeboat from the icy water and rescued by his crew.

Mitchell Court Martial Order Expected Soon

Washington, October 16.—(AP)—Court-martial orders bringing Colonel William Mitchell to trial on charges of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline are expected to be only the delivery of necessary affidavits from San Antonio, Texas, which probably reached Washington today late in the afternoon before the war department closed.

Completion of the necessary legal routine may take a day or two, but the order concerning court-martial under direct authority of President Coolidge as commander in chief, is expected to be signed by Secretary Davis next week.

Publication of the personnel of the court will show it to be composed of 13 officers, the full statutory number, all general officers probably with the exception of a colonel, and a judge advocate general's office to act as law officer. Major General Charles H. Sumner, ranking officer of the army and publisher of the second corps area, New York, has been generally agreed upon as president of the court.

The judge advocate of the court will be called in from duty at a corps area headquarters. The judge advocate general of the army himself cannot sit, as he will be required later to pass upon the legality of the court's proceedings and no officer from his office here will be selected due to the desire of Secretary Davis that the court shall be strictly representative of the army outside of Washington.

Mellon Discusses Income Tax Cut With Garner

Washington, October 16.—(AP)—A tax revision plan under which 3,000,000 persons would be relieved of all federal income taxes was discussed informally today with Secretary Mellon by Representative Garner, of Texas, the ranking democrat on the house committee which drafts tax legislation.

After the conference, Representative Garner said the treasury secretary's plan provided only for the reduction of surtaxes and inheritance taxes. He made no statement as to how his counter proposal was received at the treasury.

The Garner plan, which he said had been drafted without consultation with his democratic colleagues, contemplates a tax reduction of from $450,000,000 to $500,000,000 or approximately twice the total which the treasury is expected to recommend Monday when the tax hearings start before the ways and means committee.

The whole Garner program is predicated upon retirement of the national debt in 62 years instead of 25, as proposed by Secretary Mellon. Mr. Garner said he favored the longer period, because debtor nations would be given that length of time in which to pay off their obligations to the United States, which represent more than half of the total of this nation's indebtedness.

The relief of 3,000,000 taxpayers from all taxes would be brought about under the Garner proposal by increasing the exemption to $5,000 in the case of married persons and $3,500 in the case of single persons. The bill would not stop there, however. Mr. Garner advocating a reduction of the maximum surtax rate to 25 per cent instead of 20 per cent as the treasury is expected to propose.

"By reducing the surtax from the present maximum to a maximum of 20 per cent," he added, "the treasury will lose more than $100,000,000 and comparatively few people will benefit. Then, too, by removing the taxes from the small taxpayers, the cost of collection will be reduced materially."

"How far we can go in repealing the nuisance or consumption taxes depends, of course, on how far we go in reducing the income and estate taxes. If you greatly reduce the surtaxes and repeal the estate taxes, then the consumption levies will have to remain."

APPETITE REGAINED SKIN CLEARED UP

The usefulness of Thedford's Black-Draught has long been known to Mrs. A. B. Leach, of Yale, Okla., who says that she has been using this well known vegetable liver medicine for 28 years.

"I was in very poor health," says Mrs. Leach, telling of her condition at the time she first began to take Thedford's Black-Draught.

"I would eat, but it didn't seem to satisfy or do me any good. I was bloated, felt oppression at the stomach. The fullness in the right side was awful."

"I did not feel like doing a thing. Eating even made me tired. I sat around, feeling so miserable. One day I looked in the glass and my complexion scared me—no color in my face. My ears looked waxey, skin flabby, pale. I was in a bad fix."

"I had been taking medicine, as I was told that it was inactivity of my liver that was causing this trouble. About this time—nothing having done me any good—I began to look for relief."

"I read of Thedford's Black-Draught, and my husband went to the drugstore for it. I began its use, and my appetite became more normal. Gradually the bloating disappeared and my skin cleared up. I began to see marked improvement, and from then till now, I have praised Black-Draught as the best liver medicine made."

"I keep Black-Draught in the house and have used it ever since. I regard Black-Draught as my family medicine and expect to keep it for years to come."

Thedford's Black-Draught is made from selected medicinal roots and herbs and contains no dangerous or harmful mineral drugs. It has been in use for 80 years and has been found to relieve constipation, indigestion and biliousness, when due to a torpid liver.

WILES MURDER JURY LOCKED UP FOR NIGHT

JOANNA

BY H. L. GATES

SYNOPSIS

JOANNA, "Miss Twenty-Seven of the Silks," a modern girl, has been summoned, without warning, to the private office of GRAYDON, the owner of the great department store, Bewildered, and convinced that she is to be dismissed for some unknown offense which must have been doubly serious since it was to bring her dismissal from "The Old Man" himself, she presents herself at the office. GRAYDON receives her kindly, she answers his questions prettily, and arrogantly, informing him that she has no family and no friends except her dancing boys, who are as light in the head as they try to be on their feet. She forgets to say anything to JOHN, a young architect, who is in love with her and whom she has planned to marry. Without warning GRAYDON suddenly hands JOANNA a little leather-bound book and a letter, addressed to her in care of the store. When she reads the first paragraph JOANNA aways and would have fallen if GRAYDON had not caught her and helped her into a chair. The letter is from the city's foremost bank, signed by DONALDSTON, the great financier and chairman of the board of directors, informing her that one million dollars has been deposited to her account by a patron of the bank whose name must remain unknown to her. She is invited to draw upon this money and do with it as she wishes. GRAYDON, who admits that he knows of her mysterious good fortune, tells her that her unknown benefactor has made no conditions—the money is hers to do with as she will. GRAYDON sends the bewildered and unbelieving girl to the bank in his own limousine.

INSTALLMENT VI.

"I am sure Mr. Graydon explained to you, or didn't he? that you are not to know the answer to either of those two questions—yet. Someone who wants you to have it, someone whom the bank, and I, know very well and in whom we have complete trust as to his motives, has put the fortune at your disposal. He has even directed the bank to replenish the fund if you meet requirements beyond the initial deposit—until such a time as he may give further directions."

"You mean that after a while he will give me directions?"

"Not at all." And in the tone of the banker's promise, more than in his words, Joanna knew that whatever might be the outcome of this fantastic conversation, she would not need ever to ask that question again.

"If your benefactor has directions to give," Eggleston went on, with the banker's manner of monotonous dwelling upon the detail of a financial bargain, "they will be given the bank, and will have to do only with additions to your funds, or the cessation of them. At any rate, the present deposit of one million dollars, which includes securities we shall be glad to negotiate for you should you require the cash, is at your disposition and none of it may be withdrawn from you. It could not be, in any event, as it has been completely transferred to your account. You must accept it, to do with it as you will. You will not be asked for an accounting."

"And it's really true that I don't have to go back to the silks? To my job at the store?"

Eggleston's smile was quizzical. "I should be rather astonished to know that a young woman with a million dollars in the bank's vaults was concerned as much with the selling of silks as the buying of them."

Joanna nodded. "If I really had a million dollars you can bet the last shot on your hip—I mean you can bet I'd do a lot of buying, all right."

"I wouldn't wonder!" Eggleston commented, shortly. Joanna looked up at him quickly, detecting the hardness in his voice. "Oh," she assured him gravely as if to defend herself against his implied disapproval; "I wouldn't put it all into dancing pumps, you know!"

"What else?" Eggleston asked, quickly.

The girl floundered. She'd never thought much beyond dancing pumps and their kindred things.

"What else, then?" Eggleston repeated.

There was nothing for Joanna to do but fall back upon her subterfuges. She had many subterfuges. They covered a multitude of a girl's needs nowadays.

"Wait until something like what you're kidding me about really happens," she said, at last, brightly. "Then watch me!"

"Perhaps that will be the better bargain," the banker agreed, his voice still hard in the unpleasant way the girl didn't like so well. He pointed to the opened check book which lay forgotten at her hand. "It will begin to feel real, won't it, when you have filled out one of those?"

The girl's wits swam again. She picked up the book of long, slender leaves, and examined it curiously. Here, at her finger tips, would be the test—the test of the impossible dream these two old men, her employer, Graydon, and his friend, Eggleston, were pulling her into. She clutched at an obvious excuse to postpone what she was convinced would be the tumbling down of the house of cards that was being built for her.

"I've never had to write out one of these," she protested. "I'm afraid I'd get it twisted."

The man who had been watching from the window came abruptly into the room. A sign, merely a meeting of the eyes, passed across the girl between him and the banker. Joanna turned sharply when she realized a new figure was standing almost beside her. She knew, instantly, that she had been right in feeling an additional presence in the room. When she looked up into the newcomer's face a sudden fear, a sense of danger, tingled along her nerves. She had met many men in whose slightest approach she always recognized a challenge and a raid against her battlements. Unconsciously she stiffened in her chair. But Eggleston spoke calmly:

"I have forgotten to present Mr. Brandon. He is very close to me, in a manner, and is interested in your extraordinary circumstances—of which I had told him. He begged me to let him pay you his compliments." Brandon bowed, easily, his manner marking him immediately, in Joanna's mind, as one who could make devotions gracefully at any kind of feminine shrine. She reflected that he would be the sort that would dance well and say things that fitted the music.

"But I am going to ask Miss Manners if I may not do more than offer my congratulations," Brandon said, smiling down at her. "Perhaps she will allow me to help her draw her first check. That will be something I shall always remember—when Miss Joanna has taken her place among the hill tops."

Dazed again by the imminence of the test, Joanna obeyed him silently, the letters made by her pen running together in a black mist as he pointed out the place for her signature, the date, and the amount. After one or two attempts she signed her name to his satisfaction and her own. The she wrote in the date—as supplied by Brandon.

"And now," Brandon said, softly, almost caressingly, "the amount." She looked across the table, at Eggleston. He nodded, "Any amount you need—or that you would like to carry away," he said.

A wild impulse stirred Joanna's blood. She would make the test a real one—puncture the bubble with one stroke of her pen. Her fingers firm, now, a light of determination in her eyes. She would demand a sum which would—well, something would happen then!

Her pen shaped the line:

"One Hundred Dollars!"

Brandon laughed. He lifted the check, so laboriously—and, then, defiantly, written out. He read the amount aloud. A twinkle came into the eyes of the banker at the other side of the table, but he said nothing.

"Let's try it again," Brandon said, looking down into the puzzled face of the girl. "A hundred dollars will hardly buy you—what shall you buy first, wasn't it dancing pumps, you said? Well—surely you will want more than one pair. Here, let me fill in another check for you."

He tore the paper he held, crumpled it, and tossed it aside. Pulling the check book to his own hand he filled in the money line:

"Ten thousand dollars!"

"There, he said, as he placed the paper for the girl to sign. "That will make a better beginning for you!"

The banker touched his bell. A messenger responded almost immediately.

"You will have this cashed at once," the banker ordered the messenger. "It is the first draft upon the new account of Joanna Manners. And bring the money here. She will want it immediately."

New York, October 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The cotton market today was characterized by a heavy profit-taking and a bearish selling movement. The market closed at a new high record of 21.52 for October delivery.

The opening was firm at an advance of 20 to 24 points on relatively firm Liverpool cables and unfavorable weather news. Many reports were received that the rains were hurting the crop and delaying the movement from the interior and the early market showed considerable strength. Trade buying and covering by recent sellers and possibly some fresh buying developed on suppositions that the present rains would be followed by a drop in temperatures with a possible frost threat over the week-end.

October 21.60 for October and 20.95 for January the market ran into increased offerings, however, and early afternoon fractions followed selling by recent buyers, a renewal of southerly heating and local pressure also noted by reports of clearing weather in the southwest.

October broke to 21.36 and January to 20.70, about 24 to 25 points from the high levels of the morning, but trade buying became a factor before the 21.12 cent level for December and the close showed rallies of several points from the lowest.

The week-end figures showed a record-breaking movement of cotton into sight, about 100,000 bales, making 1,646,468 so far this season. Port receipts, 87,599. United States port stocks, 115,529.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.—Cotton spot steady. Middling, 21.65.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON PRICES FLUCTUATE.

New Orleans, October 16.—The cotton market developed fairly active trading today and prices fluctuated in rather a broader range. After an early gain of 30 to 31 points mainly on favorable cables and on numerous reports of damage from excessive rains in many portions of the belt. The market turned easier later on the large movement of the crop into sight despite the bad weather of the week and on prospects of clearing weather particularly in the western belt. Prices eased off until the early gain was lost. A fair rally in the final trading enabled the market to close at a net gain for the day of 12 to 18 points.

At the start in sympathy with favorable cables and the bad weather shown by the maps to have prevailed in all parts of the belt first trades showed gains of 22 to 25 points. The market continued to advance after the opening call until finally December was traded up to 21.03, January to 21.00 and March to 20.90, or 30 to 31 points above the close of yesterday. These levels proved to be the highs of the day.

About the middle of the morning prices started to ease off on prospects of clearing weather in the western belt. The downward tendency was later increased by the weekly statistics showing much larger movement of the crop into sight than was expected considering the bad weather which prevailed. Secretary Hester announced the into sight to have been 731,383 bales. The mill taking for the week totaled 1,033,000 bales but this was ignored for the moment. The decline persisted until all the early gain was lost and prices were back to the same levels as at the close yesterday.

In the last quarter of an hour trading, the market rallied fairly on southerly covering and on reports of a cloudburst in the Nueces, Miss., district. A firm cotton market also helped the rally.

Exports for the day totaled 89,241 bales and for the week 255,327 bales.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, October 16.—Spot cotton closed steady at revised quotations; middling, 21.03; up, 19.33; middling, 21.03; good middling, 21.78; receipts, 13,862; stock, 367,899.

AMUSEMENTS

Loew's Grand.

Four performances of the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand with the Bison City quartet and Bobby Randall as featured attractions will be offered today. The Bison City singers render a pleasing program of popular songs. Other acts on the bill are Dorothy Berger, soprano, in a repertoire of songs; Frank Le Dent and company, jugglers, and "Ernie Young's Revue," a song and dance sketch with Joan Page and company. The Loew feature picture is the beautiful "Romola" with Lillian and Dorothy Gish in leading roles.

The Rialto.

The Paramount superfeature, "The Ten Commandments," will be given the final showings of its third season, which opens on Monday, October 19, at 10:30 p.m. The two almost created a riot at the night show.

The opening number brought Laurie and Bayne in dancing number that was very well received, indeed, followed by Lee and Romaine in a sketchy song number that likewise drew considerable applause. The "Milkmaid" was a playlet in which Miss Helen Sullivan, Duncan Harris and Raymond Bond appeared, furnished many good laughs. Miss Sullivan, as an office girl, was exceptionally good and equally as stunning to look at. Mr. Bond's humor is fresh and invariably "got over" the footlights. Mr. Harris was a typical stock manipulator. It was a dandy little act.

An interesting Pathe film and a comedy reel rounded out a worthwhile program.

TESTIMONY CONCLUDED IN NOTED MURDER CASE

HENRIERSONVILLE, N. C., OCTOBER 16.—

Testimony was concluded today in the trial of Bonnie Brooks, charged with the murder of former Mayor Samuel Y. Bryson. Indications were the case would go to the jury early next week.

The defense concluded its testimony before noon. The state examined two witnesses after the midday recess, and then announced it would rest.

Lillian Pate, one of the state witnesses, testified she saw the pistol drop between Brooks and Bryson, which resulted in the death of the latter August 6 last.

Pate stated that just before he rushed toward Bryson to fire the fatal shot, Brooks shouted: "Get out your gun, you son of a bitch, and let's see who lives the longest."

Further testimony by H. D. Gentry, proprietor of the filling station where the shooting occurred, had called to Brooks to "stop shooting, you have hit him." Following this remark by Gentry, witness testified, Bryson told Patrolman Edney to "attend to Brooks. I will be waiting."

Furman Howard, the other state witness examined this afternoon, declared he saw Brooks fire two shots.

His second husband, George Winters, six for the state and six for the defense. All Johnson, of Asheville, opened argument for the state just before court adjourned today.

MAN VIEWS BODY OF WIFE HE GAVE TO HER SLAYER

Jersey City, N. J., October 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arthur B. Williams, of Jacksonville, Fla., who came here today to view the body of his former wife, Mrs. Margaret Winters, 21, hanged to death by her second husband, George Winters, 22, in their apartment early Wednesday, was undecided today whether to visit Winters to whom he yielded his wife because he loved her and because he valued her happiness more highly than his own.

"When I first arrived today I had made up my mind to see Winters," Williams said, "but now I don't know if I'll go to the hospital or not, and if I do, I don't know whether to sympathize with him or punch his nose."

Winters is under police guard in the city hospital where he was taken after the slaying when he drove the brand knife used in the murder into his own chest. Hospital officials now believe he will live.

"I never loved either of them any ill-will," Williams told the reporter, "but I thought Winters robbed me of my wife's love after almost three years of happy married life."

Williams is a manufacturer of surgical instruments.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cowles, of Winter Haven, Fla., parents of the slain woman, also arrived here this morning. They came to claim her body, now in the morgue here.

EXPORT COMPANY FOR FARM GOODS IS PLAN OF BLOC

Omaha, October 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Establishment of a government of a governmental export corporation for agricultural goods, which would be a consolidation of $150,000, will be the legislative program of a "bigger and stronger" agricultural bloc at the next session of congress, Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, said here today.

"This export corporation will in time be taken over, as far as its capital stock goes, by various agricultural cooperative associations," he explained. "This system was endorsed at the recent farmers conference in Des Moines."

Senator Brookhart said the corporation would function in such a manner as to handle all excess agricultural products for exports and would operate in such a manner that the farmer would be given the price of production and an added 5 per cent profit.

The Day in Finance

Drop in Trading When Prices Decline Seen as Indication That Long Side of Market Has Most Followers.

New York, October 16.—While the stock market continued to hold today, the movement of prices was not in one direction as was the case yesterday when sensational gains were reported in a number of shares with the average making a new high for all time. A resumption of the upward price movement early today brought about heavy profit-taking, causing declines throughout the list especially in industrials which have recently been advancing rapidly. However, the volume of trading dropped off as prices declined, indicating that the long side of the market still has the most followers.

Trading in stocks has reached the stage where it is dangerous to put in open market orders either on the buying or selling side. One experienced trader put in an order at one minute after eleven this morning to sell 200 shares of a stock that had not appeared on the tape until 11:18 o'clock with the price 96. Frequently the tape was in the market for 15 minutes before the stock appeared on the tape.

On the curb market similar conditions existed. One stock, for example, Nevada Consolidated Electric, which advanced 16 points yesterday, did not open until 11:15 o'clock despite the fact that there was an order in at the opening to buy 400 shares. There were only 100 shares of the stock offered for sale at the opening with the price 7 1/2 points above last night's closing, followed by a drop of 10 points.

Many seasoned traders in the stock market closed out all transactions today declaring that they were through until a less active and more orderly market is witnessed.

Railway equipment shares were the feature today, substantial gains being reported as a result of renewed railway buying. The list of orders announced as just placed includes 750 coal cars for Atlantic Coast Line, 100 locomotives for Chesapeake and Ohio, 100 locomotives for New York Central, the largest locomotive order of the year.

As an individual stock General Motors again attracted the most attention, selling at the acquisition of 30 per cent of the stock not now owned by it, broke 4 points to 167. Pan-American Western with the price advancing to a new high for the adjusted capitalization was attributed largely to the operations of W. C. Durant.

Money renewed at 5 1/2 per cent but dropped to 5 before noon. The supply of call money greatly exceeded the demand.

Nothing has been said recently regarding the extent of outstanding brokers' loans. It is safe to assume, however, that the figures appear to be a new high record for all time will be touched. It is worth keeping in mind that in the past when these estimates have been put out in Wall Street, through banking channels only a short time elapsed before a sharp decline occurred in the stock markets. As yet there are no signs of strain in the market, however, and forward buying increases in general trade as it is now doing in some lines this increase in the demands on the banks plus the demands now being made for stock market purposes may cause a strain.

News, Views And Reviews

Stock Letters.

FINCHON & CO.

New York, October 16.—Great activity and wild fluctuations were the outstanding features of the trading today. We again urge liquidation on all bulges.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, October 16.—Heavy buying of cottonseed oil futures, followed by a sharp decline, was the feature of the day. The market closed at a new high record of 21.52 for October delivery.

Forward movement was given considerable impetus when the offerings of funds are being made both by local banks and from out of town and a generally favorable outlook is prevailing for Saturday.

Cotton Letters.

H. & B. BEER.

New Orleans, October 16.—General world conditions all that could be desired, more activity reported in all cotton-consuming countries, and the market has been made all the more favorable for international trade expansion by the adoption of the new tariff schedule, which will be in effect on Saturday.

But the respective supply of raw cotton in the United States is at least 1,000,000 bales larger than last year, and probably more. The market is therefore in a position to handle the surplus of the crop, and the depression in the cotton market in the United States is not likely to be a serious one.

There is now a noticeably small supply of goods in the hands of spinners. One large manufacturer had today an order for 30 bales of goods usually held in stock. None were on hand and the manufacturer searched the market without avail to accommodate his customer.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, October 16.—Cotton opened up 20 to 30 points on reports of further heavy rains in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas, and the market was generally bullish. The market was generally bullish.

We expect a trading or scalping market until after the government report and the passage of the new tariff schedule, which is about October 25 in the northwest, and the market will be generally bullish.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, October 16.—The arbitration part of the cotton market, as it is called, was a feature of the day. The market was generally bullish.

These factors are being taken into consideration by the market, and the market is generally bullish.

HEAVY SALES HALT CURB SPECULATORS

New York, October 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Trading in the curb market broadened considerably but heavy profit-taking sales and bear selling impeded speculative operations for the advance, the general list closing irregularly higher. Total sales ran above a half-million shares.

Oils were mixed. Standard Oil of New York ended a point on the announcement of a proposed increase in recapitalization and Magnolia Petroleum which "Socony" is expected to absorb by the acquisition of 30 per cent of the stock not now owned by it, broke 4 points to 167. Pan-American Western with the price advancing to a new high for the adjusted capitalization was attributed largely to the operations of W. C. Durant.

INJUNCTIONS NAME MINERS' UNIONS

Charleston, W. Va., October 16.—(AP)—Injunctions against the United Mine Workers of America and its officers and members granted on behalf of virtually every mine in a belt south of Kanawha river and running almost to the southern edge of the state, were made permanent today by order of Judge George W. McClintic in United States district court.

The decision was handed down in 32 injunction cases which had been recommended for hearing, and in which the total number of a plaintiff companies reached 300, although this number included several duplications.

The territory covered by the companies involved included the Williamson-Tug river, the winding gulf, the new river, the Green Brier fields and all the Kanawha field south of the Kanawha river.

Judge McClintic, in his finding of facts, held that the United Mine Workers had "unlawfully combined and conspired absolutely to monopolize and control all labor in the United States and on the American continent engaged in mining and producing coal."

This conspiracy, he said, aimed to "restrict and interfere with production of coal by the plaintiffs," and to "fix and regulate the cost of production of coal by the plaintiffs," and to "fix and regulate the cost of production of coal and thereby control the price of coal moving in interstate commerce."

The two-day session opened with an address of welcome by Mayor J. Homer Dimon. A. B. Carter, of Gastonia, N. C., made the response.

Brigadier General Brian H. Wells, commander of Fort Benning, spoke to the textile delegates in connection with the dying of army uniforms and tentage and a discussion in this connection followed.

No officers will be elected at this time, the following present leaders serving until the summer session of 1923:

D. Grimes, Athens, Ga., president; F. Gordon Cobb, Lanester, S. C., secretary; W. H. Gibson, Jr., Mooresville, N. C., vice president.

Three cities have already extended invitations for the session next summer. These are Savannah, Ga.; Pinehurst, N. C., and Asheville, N. C.

The board of governors will decide on the next meeting place within the next few months.

A banquet was tendered the gathering by the local association tonight. The final session will be held Saturday morning, featured by an address by William N. McLaughlin, secretary of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Georgia.

At the conclusion of the final meeting the visitors will attend the Fort Benning-Oglethorpe football game in a body.

HARRIS STUDIES MOTOR VEHICLE LAW OF FLORIDA

A. T. Harris, chief clerk in the office of S. G. McLendon, secretary of state, will return today from Florida, where he has been studying the Florida motor vehicle laws for comparison with the Georgia motor vehicle law which goes into effect January 1.

Steps are now being taken to put the new law into effect. Mr. McLendon said Friday. This act is designed to lessen automobile stealing, by issuing a card of registration with every license tag. This card must be transferred to the new owner whenever an automobile is sold.

Georgia's motor vehicle registration system is much simpler than that of Florida, and is handled with a much smaller force of employees because of its simplicity, Mr. McLendon said.

General Strike Of Telegraphers On A.C.L. Called AGAINST MERGER

Wilmington, N. C., October 16.—(AP)—A general strike of 1,184 telegraphers, employed on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, has been called for 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, representatives of the Order of Railway Telegraphers said tonight.

President Albright, general manager of the railroad, was without official notice of the impending walkout, he said.

Three members of the railway labor board, who came to Wilmington Monday to investigate the dispute between the telegraphers and the railroad, left for Florida after one day of negotiation, which failed to break the existing deadlock.

Two representatives of the United States department of labor arrived here tonight.

The operators are demanding a wage increase of seven cents an hour and an annual two weeks' vacation with full pay.
